Libeling the President.
Rubber, Oil, Up. Cotton Down.
Censoring Prayer.
Halved in One.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Samuel Untermyer, able lawyer and very rich, likes to feel important and achieve notoriety, and that is natural. What's the use of being somebody if nobody knows it?

But, Mr. Untermyer presents himself in a bad light when he makes what is interpreted as an attack on President Coolidge's integrity.

J. P. Morgan & Co., are interested in General Electric, of course, and in 100 other big concerns. Dwight Morrow is a partner in the Morgan concern. He is President Coolidge's friend and has been the President's gest upon the Mayflower and elsewhere.

But, Dwight Morrow visits the President on a basis of friendship dating back to the days when they were classmates. Their friendship did not begin with Mr. Morrow's Morgan & Co. connection.

The people believe in the absolute integrity of President Coolidge. They know that no man's money interests him and that his mind is on the public service.

Naturally he will not give up the friends of his youth even to oblige Mr. Untermyer.

The latter, who has done much useful work in his day, does not add to it by his attack on the President. And, the attack being made in such a way as to make direct reply impossible makes it worse.

The people believe in President Coolidge.

You are interested in business prosperity, the "maret," which is the polite name for stock speculation. The high spots, as the new week begins with its Sunday for thought and its six chances for work are these:

Oil is higher, Standard Oil of Indiana raises the price in the Smackover field from 40 to 60 cents.

That cheers oil stock owners. Crude rubber costs more and tire prices should rise. That's pleasant for owners of tire stocks. It interests Henry Ford mildly. He is experimenting with a rubber plantation in Florida.

A difference of one dollar per tire and tube would cost Ford about $7,500,000 a year extra for his production of 24,000 wheels per day. But, when you try to raise Ford's costs, you meet "price resistance."

The outlook for the automobile industry is excellent and all branches of the industry and the stock thereof are more cheerful.

Cotton, unfortunately had a bad week due to selling in Liverpool, heavy rains, much needed in Texas and a break in the price of wool.

However, the break should not have affected the new crop. Those selling cotton several months ahead of time are inviting trouble.

Rev. Mr. Mutchler, invited to open a session of the Iowa legislature with prayer, asked a blessing for the child labor amendment.

That did not please all the legislators and there is a suggestion that prayers be censored previous to their ascent to the throne above.

In the way of censorship, that seems close to the limit. Don't those lawmakers know that what the preacher thinks is known above, whether he says it out loud or not? And is not the Lord able to protect Himself from ill advised praying even uncensored?

The well-known Solly Wertheim, warned by his lawyer, does not utter all that he feels, but turning to a person disliked, he will say, "for what I am thinking you could have me put

HINDENBURG BECOMES GERMANY'S CHIEF AMID DISCORD AND CHEERS

Communists Shout "Down With Capitalists, Long Live World Revolution," While Nationals Applaud as Aged Field Marshal Enters Reichstag and Takes Oath of Office.

SWEARS ALLEGIANCE TO WEIMAR CONSTITUTION, BASIS OF REPUBLIC

President Prefaces Declaration With Phrase "By God," Saying "I Shall Devote My Strength to German People, Serve for Their Benefit, Avert Trouble and Practice Justice."

BERLIN, May 12.—Field Marshal Paul Von Hindenburg, taking office as president of Germany today, solemnly proclaimed his allegiance to the constitution of the republic and dedicated his efforts to the whole German nation in its bitter economic struggle.

In his first mention of the republic since a plurality of nearly a million named him its leader, the veteran warrior in unmistakable terms pledged his loyalty to the ideals of popular sovereignty.

Minor Communist disorders marred his initial appearance in the reichstag to take the presidential oath. There were shouts of "Down with the capitalists — Long live the world revolution"—from the left wing.

"Three cheers for Hindenburg," was the nationalist bloc's response. When Hindenburg began his speech, the Communist deputies rose and left the chamber.

Pledges Allegiance

But as the old general his face pale with apparent sincerity, solemnly voiced his allegiance to the Republic and to the causes of the people, shouts of "bravo * * *" broke from the Reichstag and at the conclusion of his address the whole assemblage tumultously joined in three cheers.

"I have taken my oath as president according to the Republican constitution * * *"

"The Reichstag and the Reich's president belong together. Both are elected by the German people."

"* * * the people's sovereignty is the basis of our whole constitutional life."

Thus tersely the old fighter pledged himself.

"My striving will not be for one class, but the whole nation.

"I will work for truth and justice * * * to give the german national worthy place."

Touch of War Bitterness.

A touch of war bitterness crept in when he said:

"My first greeting is to all those working in the hard economic struggle to free the German name from an undeserved blot."

He issued a separate proclamation to the German army and navy, saying both belonged to the entire state and the entire nation.

The old soldier appeared tired when the ceremonies were completed. From

Candidates seeking party nomination have until midnight of June 12 to certify their names to the election board in order to get places on the ballot for the primaries.

New Cumberland Tot Drinks Iodine But Will Recover

Maxine, three-year old daughter of Mrs. Margaret Walters of New Cumberland, is recovering today from the effects of drinking iodine.

Mrs. Walters and the child had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wycoff, residing back of New Cumberland, and the youngster, without her mother's knowledge, drained the contents of a small bottle of iodine which she supposed to be medicine.

Dr. Cramer, of New Cumberland, was called and antidotes were immediately administered. Fearing the child's condition to be serious, she was brought to the City hospital here, but was discharged when the danger mark was passed.

COOLIDGE SMOKES 10-CENT CIGARS

NEW YORK, May 12.—President Coolidge smokes 10-cent cigars and he doesn't care for the higher price brands.

This was revealed today by Charles D. Hilles, president of the Ohio society.

A Mr. Hammond, a friend of the president, visited Mr. Coolidge at the White House, Hilles said, and found him enjoying a 10-cent cheroot. A day or two later Hammond sent the president a box of expensive cigars.

When Hammond visited the president again he found him smoking the same 10-cent brand.

The president explained he was very much like Jim Jackson, of Northampton, who paid 50 cents to attend an ice cream social—everything free. Jackson didn't eat his large plate of strawberry ice cream, explaining:

"If I did, I'm afraid it would spoil my taste for prunes."

Mr. Coolidge doesn't want to destroy his taste for 10-cent cigars.

Foreign War Soldiers Sell Flowers During Week of May 23.

Due to a conflict with the proposed poppy sale drive of Private Eddy Post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, "Playground Day," tentatively set for Saturday, May 23, has been postponed until Friday, June 5, "circus day," Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, announced today.

The change was made after Mrs. Bowers had been informed that the sale of "buddy" poppies, by the Veterans of Foreign Wars would open on May 23, one week prior to Decoration Day in accordance with a custom of previous years. As most of the potteries will be idle on Friday, June 5, when John Robinson's circus is scheduled to exhibit here, this date was selected by the playground workers for their drive for funds to maintain the playlot this summer.

A noveity, similar to the miniature baby dolls sold last summer, will be used in the campaign. The sale will be conducted by club women, assisted by high school girls, who will circulate about the streets and through the stores from morning until night. Several workers will be assigned to the circus grounds both afternoon and

FIVE PERSONS ESCAPE INJURY AS MOTOR CAR FALLS 15 FEET

Rev. W. G. Long's Auto Goes Over Declivity Near Kountz Ave.

BLAME HEADLIGHT

Offending Driver Fails to Stop Following Accident.

Five persons escaped serious injury at 8 o'clock last night, when an automobile owned and driven by Rev. W. G. Long, Cadmus street, plunged over a 15 foot embankment on the Wellsville-East Liverpool road, east of Kountz avenue.

The car, in addition to Rev. Long, carried his two sons, Howard and Donald; his daughter, Mrs. Julia Hart, and her husband, Ralph Hart, all of this city. Donald Long and Mrs. Hart were pinned beneath the machine when it came to a stop, but were unhurt.

The party was returning to East Liverpool from Wellsville at the time of the accident. Rev. Long claims that he was blinded by the glare of the headlights of another machine, approaching from the opposite direction, and dropped off the side of the road into a ditch, causing the car to overturn before he could stop it.

The driver of the machine alleged to have been responsible for the accident stopped for a minute, but learning that no one was hurt, disappeared before he could be recognized or his license number ascertained.

The top of the Long automobile was wrecked and the machine damaged otherways.

SPARE ELDER COOLIDGE FROM LETTER CRANKS

Curiosity Seekers and Writers Blamed for Colonel's Illness.

TAXES STRENGTH

Thoughtless Persons Intrude on Seclusion of Man, Aged 80.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., May 12. — Col. John C. Coolidge, father of the president, must be spared by curiosity seekers and correspondence cranks.

This was the edict today of the colonel's personal physician, Dr. Cram, who visited the 80-year-old man following his momentary collapse.

Hundreds of thoughtless persons from far and wide have been intruding weekly on the seclusion of the colonel and letter writers the country over have been swamping him with mail.

Colonel Coolidge has deemed it his duty to greet all who visit the birthplace of the president here and to burn the midnight oil answering the mass of unsolicited correspondence. The colonel, proud of his son, is glad to be of service to those who have honored his boy.

Has Fainting Spell.

The fact that he is 80 years old, that he has always lived in the quiet and seclusion of the hills and that advanced age has brought on slight hardening of the arteries has made the work of receiving and writing doubly hard for the president's father.

Dr. Cram said today that despite the fainting spell the colonel seemed in improved health today, even better than he has been for some weeks. The physician said the only explanation of the faiting was that possibly the heart skipped a beat. He ordered his patient not to be too active.

Col. Coolidge was up and about his farm early today making light of his condition.

"I never know how I fell until I see the newspapers," he remarked.

ALIBI DEFENSE OF FRED LONGO IN WELLSVILLE MURDER TRIAL

Slayer James Gagliardi Brought From Prison to Testify.

SON ON STAND

State Expects to Prove Plot Against Mrs. Desmonia.

An alibi will be the defense of Fred Longo, of Canton, indicted for first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Vincenzio Desmonia, of Wellsville, it was declared at Lisbon today by his chief counsel, James E. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

Prosecutor's Statement.

The defense was outlined by O'Grady in the opening statement to Judge James Glenn, of Coshocton, who is presiding, and the six men and six women in the jury box who will decide the fate of the prisoner.

Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes, in his statement said that the state expected to show by witnesses that 50 to 75 pellets had been found in the body of Mrs. Desmonia and that five shots had been fired at her. He declared that the state expected to prove that killers had been brought from Canton to exact Mrs. Desmonia's life.

James Gagliardi, of Wellsville, who is serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary, following his conviction of first degree murder, with mercy recommended, in the killing of Rocco Benvento, who was slain on the afternoon of Feb. 22, last, the day that Mrs. Desmonia was fatally shot, was the first witness called when the taking of testimony began today.

Gagliardi's Testimony.

Gagliardi, summoned by the state as a surprise witness, was brought to Lisbon early today by Penitentiary Guard Cutter, of Columbus, who will remain in charge of the prisoner until he is returned to his cell.

Thomas Campsey was sworn as interpreter by the state, while the defense also had an interpreter.

Gagliardi, who recounted incidents at the Desmonia home the Sunday afternoon Benevento was killed, testified that he had never seen Longo, accused of killing Mrs. Desmonia, until he appeared in the courtroom today.

ROTARY VIEWS BUSINESS FILM

J. D. Maddox, Pittsburgh, Speaker at Noon Luncheon.

A motion picture, depicting the manufacture of seamless steel tubes, was shown at the luncheon of the Rotary club at the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. The picture was made at the plant now owned by the Babcock-Wilcox company, at Beaver Falls, until recently operated under the name of the Pittsburgh Seamless Tube company.

President F. L. Wells, Wellsville, presided. The chorus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochrane, with Mrs. Danks Cochran as accompanist. About 60 members and their guests attended.

Announcement was made of the golf tournament, which will be a feature of the International Rotary convention to be held in Cleveland on June 17. Joseph M. Wells and others whom he may select will represent the East Liverpool club in the various tournaments, two of which will be for trophies.

In accordance with a custom established several years ago, the club will present medals to the first honor student and the greatest effort student in the graduating class of the local high school. A committee consisting of B. H. Cochran, H. B. Barth and Leon Rubin was named to purchase the medals, which will be awarded early in June.

President Wells announced the personnel of the various club committees for the year. He then introduced Anthony Koehler, head of the experimenting plant of the Babcock-Wilcox company, of this city, chairman for the day.

J. D. Maddox, Pittsburgh, also representing the Babcock-Wilcox company, who was introduced by Mr. Koehler, spoke concerning the manufacture of steel tubes.

STATE CLOSES SENSATIONAL LORAIN "LOVE COTTAGE" CASE AS ACCUSED GIRL CHARGES "FRAME-UP"

ELYRIA, O., May 12.—The state closed its case against Miss Lucille Jones, 20, daughter of Rev. T. Howard Jones today. Arguments were begun during the morning session, and it was expected that the case would reach the jury late this afternoon, probably about 4 o'clock.

Miss Jones is on trial in common pleas court here charged with having arranged clandestine meetings between girls and men at a "love cottage" in Lorain.

Today the state attempted to repair breaches made in its case by the testimony of defense witnesses, who had attacked the credibility of several of the leading witnesses for the state.

Star Witnesses Recalled

Ethel Kun, 15-year old girl, furnished the daily sensation, when she appeared on the witness stand wearing a brand new cerise hat. She denied absolutely statements attributed to her by Rev. Jones in which he testified that she had told him she must implicate Lucille or face a sentence to the girls' industrial school.

Marion Stevens, Eugene Penrod and Archie Dennison were others called by the state to refute the testimony of defense witnesses that the case was a "frame-up" and made in an effort to "get old man Jones."

Stevens, one of the witnesses first called, denied that he had ever told Dan Gochenour, William Kimmel or Raymond Conrad that he knew nothing against Lucille, and that it "was all spite work."

Witness Contradicts Himself.

Eugene Penrod testified that he was present at the Kun home when Ethel was brought back from Elyria after her escapade with William Monschein, another state witness, but did not hear Rev. Jones tell Ethel to "tell the whole truth," as the clergyman testified that he had done.

On cross-examination, he contradicted this and admitted he had heard the minister urge Ethel to speak the truth.

He also admitted that last Sunday he had talked with Rev. Jones about the case and offered to testify for the defense, at the same time asking the minister to help protect him.

Archie Dennison, the fourth witness, was present at the Kun home when Ethel was brought back by Rev. Jones and his daughter.

He testified that he heard nothing relative to telling the truth, but admitted on cross-examination that he was asleep on a lounge for an hour and one-half, and that much might have been said during his nap.

Foreign War Soldiers Sell Flowers During Week of May 23.

Due to a conflict with the proposed poppy sale drive of Private Eddy Post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, "Playground Day," tentatively set for Saturday, May 23, has been postponed until Friday, June 5, "circus day," Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, announced today.

The change was made after Mrs. Bowers had been informed that the sale of "buddy" poppies, by the Veterans of Foreign Wars would open on May 23, one week prior to Decoration Day in accordance with a custom of previous years. As most of the potteries will be idle on Friday, June 5, when John Robinson's circus is scheduled to exhibit here, this date was selected by the playground workers for their drive for funds to maintain the playlot this summer.

A novelty, similar to the miniature baby dolls sold last summer, will be used in the campaign. The sale will be conducted by club women, assisted by high school girls, who will circulate about the streets and through the stores from morning until night. Several workers will be assigned to the circus grounds both afternoon and

FIVE PERSONS ESCAPE INJURY AS MOTOR CAR FALLS 15 FEET

Rev. W. G. Long's Auto Goes Over Declivity Near Kountz Ave.

BLAME HEADLIGHT

Offending Driver Fails to Stop Following Accident.

Five persons escaped serious injury at 8 o'clock last night, when an automobile owned and driven by Rev. W. G. Long, Cadmus street, plunged over a 15 foot embankment on the Wellsville-East Liverpool road, east of Kountz avenue.

The car, in addition to Rev. Long, carried his two sons, Howard and Donald; his daughter, Mrs. Julia Hart, and her husband, Ralph Hart, all of this city. Donald Long and Mrs. Hart were pinned beneath the machine when it came to a stop, but were unhurt.

The party was returning to East Liverpool from Wellsville at the time of the accident. Rev. Long claims that he was blinded by the glare of the headlights of another machine, approaching from the opposite direction, and dropped off the side of the road into a ditch, causing the car to overturn before he could stop it.

The driver of the machine alleged to have been responsible for the accident stopped for a minute, but learning that no one was hurt, disappeared before he could be recognized or his license number ascertained.

The top of the Long automobile was wrecked and the machine damaged otherways.

SPARE ELDER COOLIDGE FROM LETTER CRANKS

Curiosity Seekers and Writers Blamed for Colonel's Illness.

TAXES STRENGTH

Thoughtless Persons Intrude on Seclusion of Man, Aged 80.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., May 12. — Col. John C. Coolidge, father of the president, must be spared by curiosity seekers and correspondence cranks.

This was the edict today of the colonel's personal physician, Dr. Cram, who visited the 80-year-old man following his momentary collapse.

Hundreds of thoughtless persons from far and wide have been intruding weekly on the seclusion of the colonel and letter writers the country over have been swamping him with mail.

Colonel Coolidge has deemed it his duty to greet all who visit the birthplace of the president here and to burn the midnight oil answering the mass of unsolicited correspondence. The colonel, proud of his son, is glad to be of service to those who have honored his boy.

Has Fainting Spell.

The fact that he is 80 years old, that he has always lived in the quiet and seclusion of the hills and that advanced age has brought on slight hardening of the arteries has made the work of receiving and writing doubly hard for the president's father.

Dr. Cram said today that despite the fainting spell the colonel seemed in improved health today, even better than he has been for some weeks. The physician said the only explanation of the faiting was that possibly the heart skipped a beat. He ordered his patient not to be too active.

Col. Coolidge was up and about his farm early today making light of his condition.

"I never know how I fell until I see the newspapers," he remarked.

Frost Last Night Hit Ohio Grapes And Strawberries

WOOSTER, May 12.—Considerable damage to grapes and strawberries and some damage to fruit was done last night by the weather drop which sent the mercury to 29 degrees at the Ohio experiment station here. ALIBI DEFENSE OF FRED LONGO IN WELLSVILLE MURDER TRIAL

Slayer James Gagliardi Brought From Prison to Testify.

SON ON STAND

State Expects to Prove Plot Against Mrs. Desmonia.

An alibi will be the defense of Fred Longo, of Canton, indicted for first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Vincenzio Desmonia, of Wellsville, it was declared at Lisbon today by his chief counsel, James E. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

Prosecutor's Statement.

The defense was outlined by O'Grady in the opening statement to Judge James Glenn, of Coshocton, who is presiding, and the six men and six women in the jury box who will decide the fate of the prisoner.

Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes, in his statement said that the state expected to show by witnesses that 50 to 75 pellets had been found in the body of Mrs. Desmonia and that five shots had been fired at her. He declared that the state expected to prove that killers had been brought from Canton to exact Mrs. Desmonia's life.

James Gagliardi, of Wellsville, who is serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary, following his conviction of first degree murder, with mercy recommended, in the killing of Rocco Benvento, who was slain on the afternoon of Feb. 22, last, the day that Mrs. Desmonia was fatally shot, was the first witness called when the taking of testimony began today.

Gagliardi's Testimony.

Gagliardi, summoned by the state as a surprise witness, was brought to Lisbon early today by Penitentiary Guard Cutter, of Columbus, who will remain in charge of the prisoner until he is returned to his cell.

Thomas Campsey was sworn as interpreter by the state, while the defense also had an interpreter.

Gagliardi, who recounted incidents at the Desmonia home the Sunday afternoon Benevento was killed, testified that he had never seen Longo, accused of killing Mrs. Desmonia, until he appeared in the courtroom today.

ROTARY VIEWS BUSINESS FILM

J. D. Maddox, Pittsburgh, Speaker at Noon Luncheon.

A motion picture, depicting the manufacture of seamless steel tubes, was shown at the luncheon of the Rotary club at the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. The picture was made at the plant now owned by the Babcock-Wilcox company, at Beaver Falls, until recently operated under the name of the Pittsburgh Seamless Tube company.

President F. L. Wells, Wellsville, presided. The chorus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochrane, with Mrs. Danks Cochran as accompanist. About 60 members and their guests attended.

Announcement was made of the golf tournament, which will be a feature of the International Rotary convention to be held in Cleveland on June 17. Joseph M. Wells and others whom he may select will represent the East Liverpool club in the various tournaments, two of which will be for trophies.

In accordance with a custom established several years ago, the club will present medals to the first honor student and the greatest effort student in the graduating class of the local high school. A committee consisting of B. H. Cochran, H. B. Barth and Leon Rubin was named to purchase the medals, which will be awarded early in June.

President Wells announced the personnel of the various club committees for the year. He then introduced Anthony Koehler, head of the experimenting plant of the Babcock-Wilcox company, of this city, chairman for the day.

J. D. Maddox, Pittsburgh, also representing the Babcock-Wilcox company, who was introduced by Mr. Koehler, spoke concerning the manufacture of steel tubes.

STATE CLOSES SENSATIONAL LORAIN "LOVE COTTAGE" CASE AS ACCUSED GIRL CHARGES "FRAME-UP"

ELYRIA, O., May 12.—The state closed its case against Miss Lucille Jones, 20, daughter of Rev. T. Howard Jones today. Arguments were begun during the morning session, and it was expected that the case would reach the jury late this afternoon, probably about 4 o'clock.

Miss Jones is on trial in common pleas court here charged with having arranged clandestine meetings between girls and men at a "love cottage" in Lorain.

Today the state attempted to repair breaches made in its case by the testimony of defense witnesses, who had attacked the credibility of several of the leading witnesses for the state.

Star Witnesses Recalled

Ethel Kun, 15-year old girl, furnished the daily sensation, when she appeared on the witness stand wearing a brand new cerise hat. She denied absolutely statements attributed to her by Rev. Jones in which he testified that she had told him she must implicate Lucille or face a sentence to the girls' industrial school.

Marion Stevens, Eugene Penrod and Archie Dennison were others called by the state to refute the testimony of defense witnesses that the case was a "frame-up" and made in an effort to "get old man Jones."

Stevens, one of the witnesses first called, denied that he had ever told Dan Gochenour, William Kimmel or Raymond Conrad that he knew nothing against Lucille, and that it "was all spite work."

Witness Contradicts Himself.

Eugene Penrod testified that he was present at the Kun home when Ethel was brought back from Elyria after her escapade with William Monschein, another state witness, but did not hear Rev. Jones tell Ethel to "tell the whole truth," as the clergyman testified that he had done.

On cross-examination, he contradicted this and admitted he had heard the minister urge Ethel to speak the truth.

He also admitted that last Sunday he had talked with Rev. Jones about the case and offered to testify for the defense, at the same time asking the minister to help protect him.

Archie Dennison, the fourth witness, was present at the Kun home when Ethel was brought back by Rev. Jones and his daughter.

He testified that he heard nothing relative to telling the truth, but admitted on cross-examination that he was asleep on a lounge for an hour and one-half, and that much might have been said during his nap.

NATIONAL VIGILANCE COMMITTEE WARNS OF SUBSCRIPTION AGENT

The National Vigilance committee, in a circular bulletin, which has just been received by the Chamber of Commerce, tells of the operations of an alleged subscription agent, R. W. Larsen by name, who, it is charged, recently victimized Cleveland people. Larsen is alleged to have collected $6 for subscriptions to Harper's Magazine. Publishers of the magazine declare they have no one by the name of Larsen in their employ. Larsen disappeared shortly after it was learned that he was under investigation.

Another bulletin tells of the conviction of Nathan E. Parris and Joseph Parris, operators of the Nate Parris Smackover Syndicate of El Dorado, Ark., upon charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of oil stock.

Other bulletins deal with the alleged fraudulent operations of James R. Burton, who recently opened an office in Cleveland as a representative for the General Motors Corporation; the Mechanical Machine Works of Baltimore, Maryland, in promoting the sale of peanut machines, and Alexander F. Brandau, who is alleged to be connected with the National Directory Service company in the compilation of a new directory.

WILL NOT MOVE CAR TRACKS

Present Route to be Followed in Wells Avenue Paving.

Because of a property owner's demanad for $50,000 damages, the tracks of the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company on Wells avenue, Wellsville, will not be re-located. This has resulted in the county commissioners notifying the traction company and the city of Wellsville to proceed with the improvement of this highway under the terms and conditions of the contract that has been awarded George B. Patterson of Wellsville.

It was the desire of the commissioners and the contracting interests to acquire sufficient land, formerly a part of the site of the old Lyth sewer pipe plant, and when the matter was taken up with the present owners of the property, damages totaling $50,000 were asked. The commissioners then issued an order that the improvement of Wells avenue be proceeded with at once under the old contract, and upon the same route now used.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calonite powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calonite powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

Grant District School Bond Issue

In effort to overcome undesirable conditions in present buildings as well as to prepare for the future growth of the community, electors of Newell, Congo and the Rock Springs precinct of Grant district, West Virginia, will pass upon a proposed $60,000 bond issue for a new school building next Monday.

The proceeds of the bond issue are to be used for the purchase of a site and the erection of a modern one-story school building in Newell, which is to contain eight standard rooms, gymnasium, auditorium and basement, and for the purpose of drilling a water well at the Grandview school, back of Newell, and to finish and equip the Grandview building.

Congestion in the present school building in Newell is such that larger quarters are required. At present, rooms are overcrowded, thus proving not only a disadvantage from a comfort standpoint, but also reacting in other ways against the youthful charges of the teachers.

Approval of the bond issue means money well spent, for erection of the Newell building and improvements at the Grandview building are not only necessary in order to meet the present situation, but the investment shall serve to anticipate an increase in the school population in coming years.

The proposed $60,000 bond issue means a levy of only 11 cents on the $100 valuation, or $1.10 on $1,000. This is a small sum to invest for education.

If the people of the district are interested in the welfare of their children and their neighbors' children, they will sanction the plans of the district board of education.

Metropolitan Evolution

A New York engineer, trying to work out a "regional plan" for the future development of the metropolis, confesses that he finds difficulty with the traffic problem.

The city in 1923 had 366,000 licensed automobiles and trucks. He says that in 40 years there will be 2,260,000 registered cars there, and 6,720,000 in the metropolitan region. There may be a few million visiting cars there, too.

The engineer feels in his bones that about that time, and maybe sooner, the north-and-south thoroughfares are going to clog up. He suggests elevated streets for motor traffic, with fewer intersections, and various other changes.

It might be simpler if New York would follow the example of beavers, when their quarters become hopelessly cluttered up, and move out. That would leave Manhattan Island for parking space.

A Scattered Orchestra

A musical novelty bobs up in South Africa. A radio duet of violin and piano was broadcast from Johannesburg with the players 40 miles apart.

They did it by using crystal sets with head phones to listen in on each other while they played. One performer was in the broadcasting studio and the other was connected with the studio by wire. The players had no difficulty in keeping time. Their performance synchronized so perfectly that hearers could not tell the difference.

This opens up many possibilities. If two musicians can play together by radio while far apart, many can do so. We may yet have symphony concerts with the players scattered all over the country and only the director in the studio. A play might be given in the same way. It should be a simple matter to obtain the services of a star performer, no matter where he might be at the time.

Storing War Funds

Here is something interesting about Finland that has nothing to do with athletics. That doughty little country proposes to establish a "war chest" of 100,000,000 marks. And either because it doesn't trust its own banks or because it doesn't trust its immediate neighbors, it proposes to deposit the cash in foreign banking houses. Wherein it differs from imperial, pre-war Germany.

It may be a good plan. Finland isn't likely to misuse any such fund, especially if it is placed in safe hands. And possibly it is not indelicate to suggest that America would make an extremely safe repository for the fund.

The idea grows on you, as you think it over. What a fine thing it would be if all the European countries put their war funds in cold storage over here!

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 12.—For 22 years Parker has been a valet. He has that strange, quiet dignity that a valet of all menials achieves. His master to him is "my gentleman." So far as is known he has no relatives and no acquaintances outside of the household that employs him.

The sole decoration of his sleeping room is a yellowing photograph of an English country squire—his father's "gentleman." His father and grandfather before him were valets. Now and then Parker goes to painting exhibitions and he subscribes to Punch.

There are hundreds of Parekrs in New York. They are curiously shy and self effacing, and yet somehow they give you a feeling they are not to be ruffled. I asked Parker's employer if he had ever quarreled with Parker. "Once," he said, "and I felt ashamed for days."

There is a theatrical producer who has a valet named Hooper. He is such a perfect servant that the producer thought as an experiment he would have him do a little "buttling" in the musical play he was producing. He was all right at rehearsals doing his small bit, but the night the play opened he walked on the stage and fell in a dead faint.

In many of the avenue mansions there are butlers who on special occasions don knickerbockers and powdered wigs to open the huge doors. Otherwise they are rarely seen save in the late evening along side streets puffing at their pipes. The trained valet will not smoke in the house.

There is a story of a former puddler who joined the noveauxriche. He acquired one of those doleful valets who had lost his employer by death. The first evening the new master asked for Scotch and soda. When it was brought he said: "Mix one yourself, Meadows!"

"I couldn't do that, sir," he said, turned on his heel and left the room, the house and the job. All of which shows the well trained valet will work for you but you must not wax familiar.

Beauty, as has been said, is largely in the eye of the beholder. One of New York's handsomest Beau Brummels is married to a lantern jawed woman with a thin neck and the complexion of oatmeal. In every gathering he raves about her beauty and his secretary spends most of her time trying to get her picture in the newspapers as one or the town's beauties.

Speaking of beauty, a visiting European portrait painter says the most beautiful girls he saw in New York were the cafe cigarette girls. Others have noticed this. There is, too, an intangible air of sorrow about them. They do not appear to fit with the zizarre surroundings. They go quietly from table to table. "Cigars! Cigarettes!" and there is a fluted cadence to their singsong cry. They are nightingales among the nighthawks. They repulse tipsy patrons with maidenly innocence. In the old days of Maxim's the tragic little Celeste was one of the attractions. This humble cigarette girl far outshone the beauties of the cabaret. She married a cast-off son of a very rich man. He afterward became paralyzed and she is still taking care of him. But her beauty has faded and she is now a waitress in a Tenth Avenue restaurant.

One of Broadway's wits is carted off to Palm Beach, Europe and other places by those who enjoy his convicial companionship. It is understood his expenses are to be paid. In this dubious fashion he seems to get along even though his self respect, if any, may be slightly dented. The other day he came into a gathering where one of the party was slightly owled.

"Ah!" said he of the wit. "Here comes the guest of the world."

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

To End Pistol Toting

NEW YORK CITY, May 12.—The crusade against pistol toting, which was started by Judge William McAdoo, chief city magistrate and former police commissioner of New York City, at the last International Police Conference, is to be renewed at the gathering of police authorities of the world.

Richard E. Enright, the present head of the police department of New York, says of Judge McAdoo, "I know of no man in the entire country who has given a closer study to the problem of the manufacture, sale and distribution of firearms used in the commission of crimes and the dangerous condition that it has caused in this country," and with that introduction to lend weight to his words Judge McAdoo calls the pistol the curse of America and declares that it has come to be almost the national badge.

"We will never get anywhere with the pistol question, says the magistrate, "until we lay a ghost, a specious argument, a popular delusion, to wit—that an honest, law-abiding citizen has the advantage when he is armed. I say from my experience and my reading, both as police commissioner and chief city magistrate, that instead of being an advantage to have a pistol under your pillow at night, or in your house, or on your person on the highways, night or day, it is a source of disadvantage.

"I would like to hear from the advocates of the continuous sale of pistols how many burglars were prevented from carrying out their operations by the householder's being armed last year, or any year. I would like to know the number of cases in which the citizen's being armed prevented a highway robbery."

Judge McAdoo cites numerous instances that have come under his observation in which the pistol has failed disastrously as a weapon of defense and stresses the point that only the law-breaker has any use for it as a weapon of offense. In spite of this the gun carrying habit is on the increase, he says, and of late years has even been taken up by the ladies. It is the open season for shooting men by jilted, jealous mistresses and wives, and no one need be surprised, according to the judge, if it comes to pass that "the bride will go to the altar with the family gun strapped to her waist as part of her trosseau."

Prohibition That Prohibits

Pistol toting must be prohibited, in the opinion of this eminent authority, and it must be a kind of prohibition that will really prohibit. The law which he favors defines the term "prohibited weapon" as including "any revolver, pistol, cartridge loaded or unloaded, for use in a revolver or pistol, firearm silencer, and any parts of such revolver, pistol or silencer."

One of the first provisions of the proposed act is aimed to stop the flood of foreign revolvers that have come into the United States in recent years, and it imposes extremely drastic penalties upon all who have anything to do with bringing them in.

If the law should be passed there will be levied on each revolver, pistol or firearm silencer "manufactured in the United States and hereafter sold, bartered, exchanged, or given away, or removed for use or sale, barter, exchange or gift, a tax of $100, to be paid by the manufacturer thereof." If a prohibited weapon is sold, exchanged, bartered or given away by another than the manufacturer, then the person so disposing of it shall pay the $100 tax.

And as to ammunition the bill provides: "All cartridges, loaded or unloaded in the United States shall be packed by the manufacturer or person loading them in packages containing 50, 100, 500, and 1000 cartridges each, and upon cartridges sold, bartered, exchanged or given away, or removed for use, or sale, barter, exchange or gift, there shall be levied, collected and paid a tax at the rate of one dollar for each loaded and fifty cents for each unloaded cartridge."

Judge McAdoo, referring to the movement for international disarmament, says that it is more important to America to have individual disarmament and scrap the pistols than it is to destroy a dozen battleships, 'for the good of our country and its reputation and the safety and sacredness of human life."

"Let us get back to that—the sacredness of human life," he adds. "I don't care whether a man killed was a bad man or a good man, we must get a public opinion in New York and San Francisco and Chicago and all over America that human life is sacred, and that no man has a right to take it except under great stress in self defense."

Regulations in England

When the pistol toting problem was taken up in England a few years ago a law was passed by Parliament regulating not only the manufacture but the carrying and selling of pistols, revolvers automatics and rifles. The decision as to whom a license should be given to carry a weapon rests with the chief police officer of the district in which the applicant resides.

Out of the 20,000 applications first filed in the metropolitan police district in London, the Commissioner, General Sir William Horwood, refused permits in about 19,000 cases and in only one instance was his refusal contested in the courts. Within a comparatively short period the number of licenses granted was reduced to 100. Any person caught with an unlicensed firearm in his possession is fined heavily and the weapon is confiscated and destroyed. Any person who shoots at a police officer gets from two to ten years of penal servitude. The latter drastic punishment is said to have had a very salutary effect in checking the carrying of firearms in England.

The result has been a decided reduction in the number of murders committed with firearms. In one year there were but 26 murders in the metropolitan district, and in 13 of these cases the murderers committed suicide on the spot. Of the remaining 13, two of the offenders were insane and the other 11 were apprehended, convicted and hung or given long terms of imprisonment.

As a further illustration of how European countries regulate this problem it may be stated that in Denmark all persons are forbidden to bear firearms, except for hunting, and they are not allowed to carry firearms for hunting without first coming to an agreement with the chief of police. In extraordinary cases the chief of police will allow the bearing of firearms by guards, nightwatchmen, and the like, but such permits are seldom granted.

Turning to the Far East it is found that Japan is practically free of the menace of the promiscuous or general handling of deadly weapons. Private individuals can not own arms and ammunition, and the law prohibits not only the manufacturing, selling or carrying of ammunition.

In Argentine legislation is being sought that will prohibit any person from having a firearm in his home or from carrying a firearm without having a special permit from the authorities.

In most Central and South American countries, however, more murderous attacks are committed with the knife or dagger than with the revolver or pistol, and it has been found an extremely difficult question to determine when a knife becomes a deadly weapon and ceased to be merely a useful or necessary article of pocket equipment.

Tax Islanders For New National Theatre; Fund Growing Fast

REYKJAVIK, Iceland—Amusement tax paid by Icelandic theater-goers is being conserved in a special fund through which it is hoped to build a national theater.

A 20 per cent tax on all tickets to public dances will go into effect soon, and the revenue collected in this way will also go into the national theater fund. The fund now amounts to approximately $18,000.

To Fight Pollution.

LOGAN, May — The Izaak Walton League, which is forming chapters in the Hocking Valley, will wage its first war on the pollution of the Hocking river. It was claimed that all the fish in this rived was killed by sulphur water. Efforts are being made to form chapters in all towns in the valley.

He afterward became paralyzed and she is still taking care of him. But her beauty has faded and she is now a waitress in a Tenth Avenue restaurant.

One of Broadway's wits is carted off to Palm Beach, Europe and other places by those who enjoy his convicial companionship. It is understood his expenses are to be paid. In this dubious fashion he seems to get along even though his self respect, if any, may be slightly dented. The other day he came into a gathering where one of the party was slightly owled.

"Ah!" said he of the wit. "Here comes the guest of the world."

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

To End Pistol Toting

NEW YORK CITY, May 12.—The crusade against pistol toting, which was started by Judge William McAdoo, chief city magistrate and former police commissioner of New York City, at the last International Police Conference, is to be renewed at the gathering of police authorities of the world.

Richard E. Enright, the present head of the police department of New York, says of Judge McAdoo, "I know of no man in the entire country who has given a closer study to the problem of the manufacture, sale and distribution of firearms used in the commission of crimes and the dangerous condition that it has caused in this country," and with that introduction to lend weight to his words Judge McAdoo calls the pistol the curse of America and declares that it has come to be almost the national badge.

"We will never get anywhere with the pistol question, says the magistrate, "until we lay a ghost, a specious argument, a popular delusion, to wit—that an honest, law-abiding citizen has the advantage when he is armed. I say from my experience and my reading, both as police commissioner and chief city magistrate, that instead of being an advantage to have a pistol under your pillow at night, or in your house, or on your person on the highways, night or day, it is a source of disadvantage.

"I would like to hear from the advocates of the continuous sale of pistols how many burglars were prevented from carrying out their operations by the householder's being armed last year, or any year. I would like to know the number of cases in which the citizen's being armed prevented a highway robbery."

Judge McAdoo cites numerous instances that have come under his observation in which the pistol has failed disastrously as a weapon of defense and stresses the point that only the law-breaker has any use for it as a weapon of offense. In spite of this the gun carrying habit is on the increase, he says, and of late years has even been taken up by the ladies. It is the open season for shooting men by jilted, jealous mistresses and wives, and no one need be surprised, according to the judge, if it comes to pass that "the bride will go to the altar with the family gun strapped to her waist as part of her trousseau."

Prohibition That Prohibits

Pistol toting must be prohibited, in the opinion of this eminent authority, and it must be a kind of prohibition that will really prohibit. The law which he favors defines the term "prohibited weapon" as including "any revolver, pistol, cartridge loaded or unloaded, for use in a revolver or pistol, firearm silencer, and any parts of such revolver, pistol or silencer."

One of the first provisions of the proposed act is aimed to stop the flood of foreign revolvers that have come into the United States in recent years, and it imposes extremely drastic penalties upon all who have any thing to do with bringing them in.

If the law should be passed there will be levied on each revolver, pistol or firearm silencer "manufactured in the United States and hereafter sold, bartered, exchanged, or given away, or removed for use or sale, barter, exchange or gift, a tax of $100, to be paid by the manufacturer thereof." If a prohibited weapon is sold, exchanged, bartered or given away by another than the manufacturer, then the person so disposing of it shall pay the $100 tax.

And as to ammunition the bill provides: "All cartridges, loaded or unloaded in the United States shall be packed by the manufacturer or person loading them in packages containing 50, 100, 500, and 1000 cartridges each, and upon cartridges sold, bartered, exchanged or given away, or removed for use, or sale, barter, exchange or gift, there shall be levied, collected and paid a tax at the rate of one dollar for each loaded and fifty cents for each unloaded cartridge."

Judge McAdoo, referring to the movement for international disarmament, says that it is more important to America to have individual disarmament and scrap the pistols than it is to destroy a dozen battleships, 'for the good of our country and its reputation and the safety and sacredness of human life."

"Let us get back to that—the sacredness of human life," he adds. "I don't care whether a man killed was a bad man or a good man, we must get a public opinion in New York and San Francisco and Chicago and all over America that human life is sacred, and that no man has a right to take it except under great stress in self defense."

Regulations in England

When the pistol toting problem was taken up in England a few years ago a law was passed by Parliament regulating not only the manufacture but the carrying and selling of pistols, revolvers automatics and rifles. The decision as to whom a license should be given to carry a weapon rests with the chief police officer of the district in which the applicant resides.

Out of the 20,000 applications first filed in the metropolitan police district in London, the Commissioner, General Sir William Horwood, refused permits in about 19,000 cases and in only one instance was his refusal contested in the courts. Within a comparatively short period the number of licenses granted was reduced to 100. Any person caught with an unlicensed firearm in his possession is fined heavily and the weapon is confiscated and destroyed. Any person who shoots at a police officer gets from two to ten years of penal servitude. The latter drastic punishment is said to have had a very salutary effect in checking the carrying of firearms in England.

The result has been a decided reduction in the number of murders committed with firearms. In one year there were but 26 murders in the metropolitan district, and in 13 of these cases the murderers committed suicide on the spot. Of the remaining 13, two of the offenders were insane and the other 11 were apprehended, convicted and hung or given long terms of imprisonment.

As a further illustration of how European countries regulate this problem it may be stated that in Denmark all persons are forbidden to bear firearms, except for hunting, and they are not allowed to carry firearms for hunting without first coming to an agreement with the chief of police. In extraordinary cases the chief of police will allow the bearing of firearms by guards, nightwatchmen, and the like, but such permits are seldom granted.

Turning to the Far East it is found that Japan is practically free of the menace of the promiscuous or general handling of deadly weapons. Private individuals can not own arms and ammunition, and the law prohibits not only the manufacturing, selling or carrying of ammunition.

In Argentine legislation is being sought that will prohibit any person from having a firearm in his home or from carrying a firearm without having a special permit from the authorities.

In most Central and South American countries, however, more murderous attacks are committed with the knife or dagger than with the revolver or pistol, and it has been found an extremely difficult question to determine when a knife becomes a deadly weapon and ceased to be merely a useful or necessary article of pocket equipment.

Tax Islanders For New National Theatre; Fund Growing Fast

REYKJAVIK, Iceland—Amusement tax paid by Icelandic theater-goers is being conserved in a special fund through which it is hoped to build a national theater.

Down the Street With One Shoe Off Came the Fireman

To a Fire? No. To Relieve a Corn

Fireman Paul Popovish, 9818 Denison Ave., Cleveland, O., told his strange experience to a reporter. He said:

"One day my corn hurt so I walked down the street without my shoe. I had tried most everything, when I decided to use a 'Blue-jay' Corn Plaster. Well, I did! It is the only thing I ever found that gave instant relief. And it peeled off the corn in 48 hours."

"Blue-jay" Plasters remove millions of stubborn corns. We make a liquid "Blue-jay" too, but for instant relief we recommend the Plasters, because the soft felt ring encircles the corn and instantly removes all painful shoe pressure. A liquid cannot remove shoe pressure. And it's hard for you to drop on just the right dose, or keep a liquid exactly on the corn.

In the shapely "Blue-jay" Plasters there is just the amount of preparation prescribed by the famous chemist who discovered "Blue-jay". It is centered in the ring. Not too much, not too little. An adhesive strip holds the preparation on the corn and nowhere else. 48 hours later the corn lifts right out. Only very stubborn corns require a second plaster.

Every time you pare a corn you risk danger of infection. Get six safe, sure "Blue-jay" Plasters for 25c. Two days later write us your experience please. All druggists sell "Blue-jay" Plasters. "Blue-jay" Laboratories, 25th and Dearborn Sts., Chicago, Ill.

Down the Street With One Shoe Off Came the Fireman

To a Fire? No. To Relieve a Corn

Fireman Paul Popovish, 9818 Denison Ave., Cleveland, O., told his strange experience to a reporter. He said:

"One day my corn hurt so I walked down the street without my shoe. I had tried most everything, when I decided to use a 'Blue-jay' Corn Plaster. Well, I did! It is the only thing I ever found that gave instant relief. And it peeled off the corn in 48 hours."

"Blue-jay" Plasters remove millions of stubborn corns. We make a liquid "Blue-jay" too, but for instant relief we recommend the Plasters, because the soft felt ring encircles the corn and instantly removes all painful shoe pressure. A liquid cannot remove shoe pressure. And it's hard for you to drop on just the right dose, or keep a liquid exactly on the corn.

In the shapely "Blue-jay" Plasters there is just the amount of preparation prescribed by the famous chemist who discovered "Blue-jay". It is centered in the ring. Not too much, not too little. An adhesive strip holds the preparation on the corn and nowhere else. 48 hours later the corn lifts right out. Only very stubborn corns require a second plaster.

Every time you pare a corn you risk danger of infection. Get six safe, sure "Blue-jay" Plasters for 25c. Two days later write us your experience please. All druggists sell "Blue-jay" Plasters. "Blue-jay" Laboratories, 25th and Dearborn Sts., Chicago, Ill.

—to have a good APPETITE!

"Yes! thank you."

A GOOD appetite means a cheerful disposition.

You may have a good appetite if the blood that goes constantly to your vital organs is pure. S.S.S. purifies the blood—a good appetite follows and you will have a clear complexion and will be strong, cheerful and healthy.

Don't go on feeling up one day and down the next—hardly sick but never well—losing "pep," punch and ambition. Hearty eaters are the red-blooded men and women. Enjoy your food! Get back your strength and energy! Reclaim yourself before it is too late! People in a physically run-down condition are an easy prey to disease.

S.S.S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. Your blood-cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. S.S.S. aids Nature in supplying new red-blood-cells,—the spark that rejogs your system. Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S.S.S.—the great blood purifier which gives Nature a helping hand.

Get back the lost appetite, the missing vitality, the keen, sparkling eyes, that look of determination. S.S.S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

in jail," and that answers his purpose.

Perhaps the Iowa clergy, praying for the Iowa legislature, might cover the ground by saying as a preliminary to censored prayer, "for what I am thinking some of you could be put in jail."

You may live to 105 and not read this news again.

Mrs. Robinson and Miss Clutterbuck, British golfers drove off from the fifteenth tee at Ramsgate and each "sank" her ball on that first shot. It was a 110-yard hole and for some time to come those ladies will tell how they "halved the hole in one."

John Barrymore, now back from his great success as a Hamlet in London, is said to have told the Prince of Wales that what kept him, Barrymore, going was "fervor and champagne."

The able young actor is mistaken. Fervor will keep a man going up to 90 and beyond. Champaign, if he gives it a chance, will stop him at 50.

Light red wine, supplying iron, tannin and vitamine, yes.

Ninety per cent of the world's really great men have relied upon it, in old age and in youth. Champagne, no.

Its arrested process of fermentation continues inside the drinker and that's deadly. Frenchmen who know manufacture champagne for Englishmen, Russians and Americans.

They, the wise French, drink claret.

The bootleg industry has energetic management. Spies of the rum runner, included in crews of government boats, cripple the engines. And officers of the "dry navy" interfering with the ru mships have been threatened with death.

If American boats were anchored off the British coast, openly engaged in co-operation with British lawbreakers, don't you think Britain would take vigorous action?

PAY TOO SMALL, MAYOR QUITS

Holloway's Woman Executive Can't Live on $100 a Year.

FLUSHING, O., May 12.—This business of being a mayor or rather, mayoress, is interesting and hectic and all of that, but when there's only a $100 bill forthcoming for a year's term and there's food and clothes to buy, it's not so good.

At least Mrs. Dora Whiston thinks as much, and has quit the mayoral chair at Holloway, a railroad town, and has come to Flushing to continue living with her daughter and son-in-law, who recently moved here from Holloway.

When "her honor" resigned, Holloway councilmen selected H. C. Robinet to serve the remainder of the term, which expires in January. It was rather hard to relinquish the reins of the village to a man, especially after Holloway women had worked hard and exercised their recently born voting power to put her in office—but one simply must eat.

In the opinion of the former executive, a woman can handle municipal offices as readily as a man, especially in the smaller towns where the work does not take a great deal of time away from home.

Woman Put Off Train At Wrong Station, Sues for $5,000

DAYTON, O., May 12.—Charging that Union station employes misdirected her to a train, Lucy J. Lee, of Tutwiler, Miss., has sued the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad companies for $5,000.

She was put off a train 15 miles from Dayton through a misunderstanding.

THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa. — "My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after. When I bent over and raised myself up again I could almost scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water.

Once when we had been in town a little book telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and help with the milking and taking care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I am feeling fine myself. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound." —Mrs. OSCAR F. BORGELIN, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

GUNMEN KILL TWO AT SMOKER

Double Murder Believed Due to Wet Wash Laundry War.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Police today were seeking gansters and gunmen who killed Henry Ginsberg, 38, and his partner, Hyman Jacobson, at a smoker in Brooklyn last night.

The double murder, police believe, was a new outbreak of the wet wash laundry wars.

Three uninvited guests walked into the stag and shot Ginsberg, who was seated at a table waiting for the show to start. The shots were not heard as the gun was equipped with a Maxim silencer.

Ginsberg fell dead on the floor, blood streaming from his vest.

Jacobson, who was acting as an usher, ran after the three gunmen. When police arrived they found his body in the driveway of the inn.

him about making a trip to Canton, the witness replied, "Nothing."

Victim's Son on Stand.

Carman Desmonia, son of Mrs. Vinin New York, testified that the shooting in the Desmonia home awakened him. He was lying over a table in the dining room, sleeping, when his mother came into the room and said, "Someone shot me'.

The witness then told of calling a physician, the coming of an ambulance to the home to take his mother to a hospital, and the arrival of the Wellsville police.

Oscar Garden, colored, said that he was in his home when he heard the shooting on Broadway. He declared he saw some one running but that he could not describe the man.

When Garden finished his testimony and was about to leave the stand, Brookes asked him if O'Grady had been talking with him. The witness replied 'no'.

"Is that a charge that counsel has been tampering with a witness?"

"If the shoe fits you, put it on", Brookes replied.

When Garden was excused the court declared a recess until 1 o'clock.

Members of Jury

The jury, chosen at 2 o'clock yesterday, includes six men and six women. They are: Clyde Bryan, Salem; Harry Morrow, Lisbon; Mary McIntosh, East Liverpool; Jennie Roach, Salem; Mrs. Lyda Ustick, Wellsville; John Baxter, Lisbon; William Burkee, East Palestine; Mrs. Rose Yoder, East Palestine; Charlotte Oesch, West Township; Mrs. George Bradfield, East Liverpool; D. D. Kirby, Salem; Leonard Aughinbaugh, Wellsville.

The thirteenth juror was not selected, although it had been intimated before court opened yesterday morning that the extra juror would "listen in" as provided by Section 11431-1.

Judge Glenn did not suggest to counsel that the extra juror be selected.

Visit Scene of Alleged Crime.

Within half an hour after the jurors were sworn by Clerk of Courts John T. Burns they were taken to Wellsville to view the scene of the alleged crime, in custody of Sheriff George Wright.

The prisoner was in charge of Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, accompanied the jurors on the trip.

Positive injunction was given by Judge Glenn that no jurors were to talk to any one except Sheriff Wright. It was also made plain that Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brooke, representing the state, and Attorney James E. O'Grady, of Wellsville, were to be the only ones to address the sheriff, and he in turn would point certain locations to the jury that might be suggested to him by counsel.

Instructions Given Jurors.

To the jurors, Judge Glenn said: "Don't form an opinion that a crime has been committed. You will only do this after you have heard the evidence in this case, heard the argument of counsel at the close and the charge of the court. During any recess period, should the court fail to charge you as you have already been charged you are hereby ordered to obey the order not to talk of this case to any one, or among yourselves. Should any one attempt to talk to you about the case, report the name of the person to the court, and if not the name, then a description of the person. The court will then act."

It was 4:15 o'clock when the jury returned to the Lisbon court, then recessed until 9 o'clock this morning.

the reichstag he walked to the west portal, to review the reichswehr troops and motoring from the reichstag, then was officially received at Wilhelmstrasse palace by President Ad Interim Simon.

Visits Presidential Palace.

Then driving slowly between squadrons of the Prussian lancers, President Hindenburg approached for the first time since his election his future home, the presidential palace.

Thousands of handkerchiefs and uplifted hands made a white background for the fluttering pennons of his honor guard. As he alighted from his automobile he seemed weary, but stood with raised hat while the crowd broke out in the strains of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

At the conclusion of the first verse, President Hindenburg entered the house. The crowd sang the anthem through to the end. Then the lancers again dipped their pennons, swung into columns of four, and marched away.

Speaks With Vigor.

In taking the oath, Hindenburg spoke with vigor, distinctly and slowly, as if anxious that all the world should hear every word. The constitution does not make it mandatory to swear "by God,' 'but Hindengurg prefaced his declaration with that phrase, for he is a deeply religious man.

The president was dressed in a frock coat, top hat and gray trousers. His face was slightly pale and his expression grave. He gave the appearance to onlookers as that of a man of calm dignity.

He walked firmly and with military tread as he left the reichstag by the western door. In front of which stands an enormous monument of Bismark, to inspect the Reichwehr battalion. When he appears on the porch the thousands of persons gathered nearby set up a thunderous cheering. The battalion was lined up in parade formation in front of the reichstag prepared for inspection and as a demonstration that the president also is commander-in-chief of the army.

Rides to Palace.

Extraordinary precaution was taken by thousands of police during the night to circumvent any overt act by Communists. The reichstag was minutely searched from underpinning to dome and every nook and cranny where a bomb might be secreted was examined.

Buildings Gay With Flags.

Inauguration day was bright and cheerful.

All official Wilhelmstrasse buildings were gay with Republican flags and emblems.

Inside in the plenary hall, a table stood in front of the president's chair this too, had Republican colors, flowers at the right and left of the table.

Behind the presidential chair was the presidential banner, but no other decoration. Most of the Socialist deputies wore red carnations.

The crowds that surged outside the Reichstag numbered in the tens of thousands. Police controlled the situation with military firmness.

Throng Cheers President.

When Hindenburg left the chancellor's palace there was no fanfare and blare of trumpets as in the old days of monarchial splendor.

He got into a five-seated automobile as though he were a commoner.

The throng cheered loudly.

The only incident that marked the auto journey was that of a small boy being pulled down from a lamp post where he had climbed to see Hindenburg ride past.

It was a day of glory for thousands of former soldiers, many of whom had fought in the field with Hindenburg. Numerous impoverished veterans had saved their earnings for weeks to get out of pawn the cherished and once resplendent uniform of a general or an admiral to wear today.

Herrick Spikes Rumors at Conference With Reporters.

PARIS, May 12.—Joseph Caillaux, French minister of finance, today proposed to the finance commission of the chamber of deputies that a part of the receipts under the Dawes plan be used to pay the inter-allied debts.

Herrick, American ambassador to France, today received American correspondents at the embassy and in a statement to them denied that a note regarding a settlement of the French debt had been transmitted to the Painleve government. REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 12.—The stock market was active and buoyant in every department in early trading today. The motor stocks held the center of the stage at the opening, but speculative interest soon spread to the rails, and later to the oils and industrials, including the copper and shipping shares. Rubber manufacturing companies reporting large inventories reflected the sensational forward price movement in crude rubber, which has advanced from 34 to 61 cents a pound since the turn of the year.

Willys Overland preferred pushed through par for the first time and sold at 101¼. General Motors reached a new high at 76. United States Rubber at 47 showed a gain of about 10 points for the movement.

Both the investment and the speculative railroad shares reached higher prices with Frisco common a leader in the former group. St. Paul preferred spurted nearly two points to 10½ in the early trading, while the common was up ¾ at 6¼. American Can reached a new record high at 189 with a gain of over four points. Baldwin and General Electric gained two points each.

Standard Oil of New Jersey and Maryland led a moderate rally in the oil stocks in which Phillips, Pacific and a few of the independent oil shares participated. But the volume of trading was comparatively small.

MAY DYNAMITE DEATH VESSEL

Mississippi River Still Holds Bodies of 21 Victims.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12—Dynamite may be used by government engineers today in an attempt to bring to the surface the bodies of the 21 victims, still imprisoned in the hull of the steamer Norman, which lies at the bottom of the Mississippi, 16 miles below here.

This method was tentatively decided upon after another fruitless day was spent pounding the submarged boat to pieces with powerful derricks in an effort to release the bodies.

Despite the fact that nearly one-quarter of the entire superstructure of the Norman has been torn away, the Father of Waters refused to give up the dead which it has guarded so jealously for three days and nights.

Three heavy anchors, attached to government dredges, were pounded against the sides of the Norman continually during the day, but to no avail. A constant vigil was maintained by the fleet of motor boats patroling the river on the lookout for any bodies that may have risen to the surface.

A pathetic note was added to the fruitless search by the presence on shore of a little group of patient spectators, who waited for hours to hear the cry that the work had been successful. They were relatives of the victims, many of whom had come for miles to claim the bodies of their dead.

A drizzling rain failed to prevent them from maintaining their silent watch. Water soaked, chilled to the bone, yet, they waited.

Half of Dry Law Fines Must be Paid Into State Treasury

COLUMBUS, May 12.—One-half of the fines obtained by mayors for violatons of the state prohibition act must be paid into the state treasury, the state supreme court here held today.

The court allowed motion of Attorney General Crabbe for a wrt of mandamus to compel Mayor Felton of Grove City, Franklin county, to pay into the state treasury $1,116.12, representing one-half of fines collected in his mayor's court prior to June 17, 1924. Felton contended he had authority to retain the sum involved for payment of expenses of detectives. A like sum had already been paid into the village treasury.

in jail," and that answers his purpose.

Perhaps the Iowa clergy, praying for the Iowa legislature, might cover the ground by saying as a preliminary to censored prayer, "for what I am thinking some of you could be put in jail."

You may live to 105 and not read this news again.

Mrs. Robinson and Miss Clutterbuck, British golfers drove off from the fifteenth tee at Ramsgate and each "sank" her ball on that first shot. It was a 110-yard hole and for some time to come those ladies will tell how they "halved the hole in one."

John Barrymore, now back from his great success as a Hamlet in London, is said to have told the Prince of Wales that what kept him, Barrymore, going was "fervor and champagne."

The able young actor is mistaken. Fervor will keep a man going up to 90 and beyond. Champaign, if he gives it a chance, will stop him at 50.

Light red wine, supplying iron, tannin and vitamine, yes.

Ninety per cent of the world's really great men have relied upon it, in old age and in youth. Champagne, no.

Its arrested process of fermentation continues inside the drinker and that's deadly. Frenchmen who know manufacture champagne for Englishmen, Russians and Americans.

They, the wise French, drink claret.

The bootleg industry has energetic management. Spies of the rum runner, included in crews of government boats, cripple the engines. And officers of the "dry navy" interfering with the ru mships have been threatened with death.

If American boats were anchored off the British coast, openly engaged in co-operation with British lawbreakers, don't you think Britain would take vigorous action?

PAY TOO SMALL, MAYOR QUITS

Holloway's Woman Executive Can't Live on $100 a Year.

FLUSHING, O., May 12.—This business of being a mayor or rather, mayoress, is interesting and hectic and all of that, but when there's only a $100 bill forthcoming for a year's term and there's food and clothes to buy, it's not so good.

At least Mrs. Dora Whiston thinks as much, and has quit the mayoral chair at Holloway, a railroad town, and has come to Flushing to continue living with her daughter and son-in-law, who recently moved here from Holloway.

When "her honor" resigned, Holloway councilmen selected H. C. Robinet to serve the remainder of the term, which expires in January. It was rather hard to relinquish the reins of the village to a man, especially after Holloway women had worked hard and exercised their recently born voting power to put her in office—but one simply must eat.

In the opinion of the former executive, a woman can handle municipal offices as readily as a man, especially in the smaller towns where the work does not take a great deal of time away from home.

Woman Put Off Train At Wrong Station, Sues for $5,000

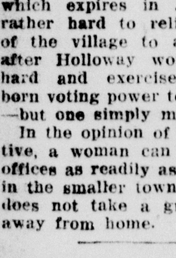
DAYTON, O., May 12.—Charging that Union station employes misdirected her to a train, Lucy J. Lee, of Tutwiler, Miss., has sued the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad companies for $5,000.

She was put off a train 15 miles from Dayton through a misunderstanding.

THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa. — "My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after. When I bent over and raised myself up again I could almost scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water.



Once when we had been in town a little book telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and help with the milking and taking care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I am feeling fine myself. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound." —Mrs. OSCAR F. BORGELIN, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for sale by all druggists.

GUNMEN KILL TWO AT SMOKER

Double Murder Believed Due to Wet Wash Laundry War.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Police today were seeking gansters and gunmen who killed Henry Ginsberg, 38, and his partner, Hyman Jacobson, at a smoker in Brooklyn last night.

The double murder, police believe, was a new outbreak of the wet wash laundry wars.

Three uninvited guests walked into the stag and shot Ginsberg, who was seated at a table waiting for the show to start. The shots were not heard as the gun was equipped with a Maxim silencer.

Ginsberg fell dead on the floor, blood streaming from his vest.

Jacobson, who was acting as an usher, ran after the three gunmen. When police arrived they found his body in the driveway of the inn.

him about making a trip to Canton, the witness replied, "Nothing."

Victim's Son on Stand.

Carman Desmonia, son of Mrs. Vinin New York, testified that the shooting in the Desmonia home awakened him. He was lying over a table in the dining room, sleeping, when his mother came into the room and said, "Someone shot me'.

The witness then told of calling a physician, the coming of an ambulance to the home to take his mother to a hospital, and the arrival of the Wellsville police.

Oscar Garden, colored, said that he was in his home when he heard the shooting on Broadway. He declared he saw some one running but that he could not describe the man.

When Garden finished his testimony and was about to leave the stand, Brookes asked him if O'Grady had been talking with him. The witnuess replied 'no'.

"Is that a charge that counsel has been tampering with a witness?"

"If the shoe fits you, put it on", Brookes replied.

When Garden was excused the court declared a recess until 1 o'clock.

Members of Jury

The jury, chosen at 2 o'clock yesterday, includes six men and six women. They are: Clyde Bryan, Salem; Harry Morrow, Lisbon; Mary McIntosh, East Liverpool; Jennie Roach, Salem; Mrs. Lyda Ustick, Wellsville; John Baxter, Lisbon; William Burkee, East Palestine; Mrs. Rose Yoder, East Palestine; Charlotte Oesch, West Township; Mrs. George Bradfield, East Liverpool; D. D. Kirby, Salem; Leonard Aughinbaugh, Wellsville.

The thirteenth juror was not selected, although it had been intimated before court opened yesterday morning that the extra juror would "listen in" as provided by Section 11431-1.

Judge Glenn did not suggest to counsel that the extra juror be selected.

Visit Scene of Alleged Crime.

Within half an hour after the jurors were sworn by Clerk of Courts John T. Burns they were taken to Wellsville to view the scene of the alleged crime, in custody of Sheriff George Wright.

The prisoner was in charge of Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, accompanied the jurors on the trip.

Positive injunction was given by Judge Glenn that no jurors were to talk to any one except Sheriff Wright. It was also made plain that Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, representing the state, and Attorney James E. O'Grady, of Wellsville, were to be the only ones to address the sheriff, and he in turn would point certain locations to the jury that might be suggested to him by counsel.

Instructions Given Jurors.

To the jurors, Judge Glenn said: "Don't form an opinion that a crime has been committed. You will only do this after you have heard the evidence in this case, heard the argument of counsel at the close and the charge of the court. During any recess period, should the court fail to charge you as you have already been charged you are hereby ordered to obey the order not to talk of this case to any one, or among yourselves. Should any one attempt to talk to you about the case, report the name of the person to the court, and if not the name, then a description of the person. The court will then act."

It was 4:15 o'clock when the jury returned to the Lisbon court, then recessed until 9 o'clock this morning.

Hindenburg Chief

the reichstag he walked to the west portal, to review the reichswehr troops and motoring from the reichstag, then was officially received at Wilhelmstrasse palace by President Ad Interim Simon.

Visits Presidential Palace.

Then driving slowly between squadrons of the Prussian lancers, President Hindenburg approached for the first time since his election his future home, the presidential palace.

Thousands of handkerchiefs and uplifted hands made a white background for the fluttering pennons of his honor guard. As he alighted from his automobile he seemed weary, but stood with raised hat while the crowd broke out in the strains of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

At the conclusion of the first verse, President Hindenburg entered the house. The crowd sang the anthem through to the end. Then the lancers again dipped their pennons, swung into columns of four, and marched away.

Speaks With Vigor.

In taking the oath, Hindenburg spoke with vigor, distinctly and slowly, as if anxious that all the world should hear every word. The constitution does not make it mandatory to swear "by God,' 'but Hindengurg prefaced his declaration with that phrase, for he is a deeply religious man.

The president was dressed in a frock coat, top hat and gray trousers. His face was slightly pale and his expression grave. He gave the appearance to onlookers as that of a man of calm dignity.

He walked firmly and with military tread as he left the reichstag by the western door. In front of which stands an enormous monument of Bismark, to inspect the Reichwehr battalion. When he appears on the porch the thousands of persons gathered nearby set up a thunderous cheering. The battalion was lined up in parade formation in front of the reichstag prepared for inspection and as a demonstration that the president also is commander-in-chief of the army.

Rides to Palace.

Extraordinary precaution was taken by thousands of police during the night to circumvent any overt act by Communists. The reichstag was minutely searched from underpinning to dome and every nook and cranny where a bomb might be secreted was examined.

Buildings Gay With Flags.

Inauguration day was bright and cheerful.

All official Wilhelmstrasse buildings were gay with Republican flags and emblems.

Inside in the plenary hall, a table stood in front of the president's chair this too, had Republican colors, flowers at the right and left of the table.

Behind the presidential chair was the presidential banner, but no other decoration. Most of the Socialist deputies wore red carnations.

The crowds that surged outside the Reichstag numbered in the tens of thousands. Police controlled the situation with military firmness.

Throng Cheers President.

When Hindenburg left the chancellor's palace there was no fanfare and blare of trumpets as in the old days of monarchial splendor.

He got into a five-seated automobile as though he were a commoner.

The throng cheered loudly.

The only incident that marked the auto journey was that of a small boy being pulled down from a lamp post where he had climbed to see Hindenburg ride past.

It was a day of glory for thousands of former soldiers, many of whom had fought in the field with Hindenburg. Numerous impoverished veterans had saved their earnings for weeks to get out of pawn the cherished and once resplendent uniform of a general or an admiral to wear today.

He said the next information on the subject would have to come from the state department at Washington.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 12.—The stock market was active and buoyant in every department in early trading today. The motor stocks held the center of the stage at the opening, but speculative interest soon spread to the rails, and later to the oils and industrials, including the copper and shipping shares. Rubber manufacturing companies reporting large inventories reflected the sensational forward price movement in crude rubber, which has advanced from 34 to 61 cents a pound since the turn of the year.

Willys Overland preferred pushed through par for the first time and sold at 101½. General Motors reached a new high at 76. United States Rubber at 47 showed a gain of about 10 points for the movement.

Both the investment and the speculative railroad shares reached higher prices with Frisco common a leader in the former group. St. Paul preferred spurted nearly two points to 10½ in the early trading, while the common was up ¾ at 6½. American Can reached a new record high at 189 with a gain of over four points. Baldwin and General Electric gained two points each.

Standard Oil of New Jersey and Maryland led a moderate rally in the oil stocks in which Phillips, Pacific and a few of the independent oil shares participated. But the volume of trading was comparatively small.

Smokers Get Warning Against Forest Fires

Sacramento.—Every time they "light up" in the future, smokers of certain brands of cigarets and tobacco distributed in California will be reminded of the danger of forest fires through the careless handling of matches and lighted cigarets and cigars. At the request of forestry officials representing both the state and federal governments, several of the largest tobacco companies of the country have agreed to pack with their products intended for distribution in California a printed notice warning smokers against the danger of forest fires.

Industry Has Highest Death Rate, Quiz Finds

Baltimore, Md.—The rate from accidental causes among industrial workers is about two and one-half times that for the nonindustrial group, the committee on occupational diseases and hazards in the chemical trades of the American Chemical society declared in a report to the spring meeting of the society here. Pneumonia is twice as high among industrial as among nonindustrial workers, the report added, continuing:

"Tuberculosis is more important than accidents, for a loss of between eighteen months and two years in the longevity of workers and industrial employment is probably the most important single factor in the tuberculosis death rate.

"In a similar manner conditions as cerebral hemorrhage, Bright's disease, and organic heart diseases show strikingly the effects of industrial exposure. The death rates are two and three times as high as in the nonindustrial groups during the active working years of life.

"As regards the hazards inherent to exposure to certain industrial poisons it is believed the number of immediate deaths is probably not large; but the indirect effects can be noted in the curtailed efficiency of workers in these trades, in long periods of illness and disability."

Smokers Get Warning Against Forest Fires

Sacramento.—Every time they "light up" in the future, smokers of certain brands of cigarets and tobacco distributed in California will be reminded of the danger of forest fires through the careless handling of matches and lighted cigarets and cigars. At the request of forestry officials representing both the state and federal governments, several of the largest tobacco companies of the country have agreed to pack with their products intended for distribution in California a printed notice warning smokers against the danger of forest fires.

Industry Has Highest Death Rate, Quiz Finds

Baltimore, Md.—The rate from accidental causes among industrial workers is about two and one-half times that for the nonindustrial group, the committee on occupational diseases and hazards in the chemical trades of the American Chemical society declared in a report to the spring meeting of the society here. Pneumonia is twice as high among industrial as among nonindustrial workers, the report added, continuing:

"Tuberculosis is more important than accidents, for a loss of between eighteen months and two years in the longevity of workers and industrial employment is probably the most important single factor in the tuberculosis death rate.

"In a similar manner conditions as cerebral hemorrhage, Bright's disease, and organic heart diseases show strikingly the effects of industrial exposure. The death rates are two and three times as high as in the nonindustrial groups during the active working years of life.

"As regards the hazards inherent to exposure to certain industrial poisons it is believed the number of immediate deaths is probably not large; but the indirect effects can be noted in the curtailed efficiency of workers in these trades, in long periods of illness and disability."

Rub the Spine

If you believe the spine is the seat of most of your physical ills and more people are thinking so every day, just give it a gentle massage every night with Joint Ease and watch the helpful results.

It limbers up the spinal column and makes old folks feel younger. Many people are getting it daily from Jesse D. Holloway, Mathews Med. store and other good pharmacists.

The name is Joint-Ease and it's the one big discovery for stiff, swollen, inflamed joints—and a tube for only 60 cents.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint misery gets out—quick—and money back if it fails.

SCHOOL BOND VOTE MONDAY

Ask $60,000 for Erection of New Building.

Grant district voters will pass upon a bond issue for $60,000 for the purpose of purchasing a school site, erecting, completing and furnishing a one-story eight-room fire-proof building in Newell, to include a gymnasium, auditorium and basement, and for the purpose of finishing and equipping the Grandview school and drilling a water well at the same location, at a special election to be held next Monday.

The proposal represents a levy of 11 cents on every one hundred dollar valuation, based upon the last prior assessment of said property for state and county purposes. It has been pointed out by school officials that under the lew the board of education can, in emergencies, assess a levy of 40 cents. The bond issue is expected to solve the problem of crowded conditions existing in the Newell school building. The length of the bonds is for 30 years with the levy decreasing as property valuation increases.

Members of the district board of education will sit in the Newell school building Wednesday, May 13, when corrections will be made in the registration lists and new voters added. This will be the only opportunity for new electors to enroll.

Electors will vote in the Newell school building and Rock Springs park precincts, while those residing in Congo and Arroyo will cast their ballots in the Congo school.

High Baseball Team Wins.

Newell high school baseball team journeyed to Irondale Saturday and defeated the scholastic team there, 6 to 5. East Liverpool high squad will be the opponents of the locals here Friday afternoon. Drum, who twirled at Irondale, will probably oppose the Pottery City lads.

School Savings Report.

Following is the school savings report for last week: Room No. 1, $2.13; room No. 2, $1.92; room No. 3, $1.50; room No. 4, $5.70; room No. 5, 70 cents; room No. 6, $17.50; room No. 7, $7.60; room No. 8, no report; room No. 9, $1.36; room No. 10, no report.

HOW TO END BLADDER TROUBLE

Remarkable results in quickly clearing up long-standing cases of bladder trouble and weak kidneys are being obtained with a remarkable remedy originally compounded many years ago by a famous Holland chemist. It goes direct to the overworked and congested kidneys and bladder, and tones them up and restores them to normal working order often in 24 hours. Physicians have known its value for years, but it is only recently that the genuine imported oil has been put up in easy-to-take, tasteless capsule form, under the name of Red Mill Haarlem OIL. Costs only 50c, and sold under an absolute money-back guarantee. Ask these druggists:

Bank Equipment Sold.

BETHESDA, May — The mechanical equipment of the defunct Commercial & Savings bank has been sold to the South Euclid bank at South Euclid. INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

The Path of Thorns

Alice had a comfortable home with her parents in a thriving little village. She had the usual opportunities for wholesome amusement—friends—a sweetheart who was devoted to her. Yet she was discontented. Life was too slow. She longed for romantic adventure, excitement—a taste of what is called "the wine of life." Had she known the hollow mockery, the utter emptiness of the career of pleasure that beckoned her, she would never have made the tragic mistake that was to bring her such agony of mind and soul. Her story, "The Fool That I Was," appears in True Story Magazine for June. One of 18 big features. Get your copy today.

SCHOOL BOND VOTE MONDAY

Ask $60,000 for Erection of New Building.

Grant district voters will pass upon a bond issue for $60,000 for the purpose of purchasing a school site, erecting, completing and furnishing a one-story eight-room fire-proof building in Newell, to include a gymnasium, auditorium and basement, and for the purpose of finishing and equipping the Grandview school and drilling a water well at the same location, at a special election to be held next Monday.

The proposal represents a levy of 11 cents on every one hundred dollar valuation, based upon the last prior assessment of said property for state and county purposes. It has been pointed out by school officials that under the lew the board of education can, in emergencies, assess a levy of 40 cents. The bond issue is expected to solve the problem of crowded conditions existing in the Newell school building. The length of the bonds is for 30 years with the levy decreasing as property valuation increases.

Members of the district board of education will sit in the Newell school building Wednesday, May 13, when corrections will be made in the registration lists and new voters added. This will be the only opportunity for new electors to enroll.

Electors will vote in the Newell school building and Rock Springs park precincts, while those residing in Congo and Arroyo will cast their ballots in the Congo school.

HOW TO END BLADDER TROUBLE

Remarkable results in quickly clearing up long-standing cases of bladder trouble and weak kidneys are being obtained with a remarkable remedy originally compounded many years ago by a famous Holland chemist. It goes direct to the overworked and congested kidneys and bladder, and tones them up and restores them to normal working order often in 24 hours. Physicians have known its value for years, but it is only recently that the genuine imported oil has been put up in easy-to-take, tasteless capsule form, under the name of Red Mill Haarlem Oil. E. Palestine Mayor Will Seek County Auditor Job in 1926

Mayor Albert W. Ferren of East Palestine will not seek a third term, but will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for county auditor in 1926, he announced today.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

Ferren, a former resident of East Liverpool, was active in the enforcement of the prohibition laws during his first term of office, offenders from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salem and other parts of the county being arraigned in his court. He was re-elected without opposition.

Bank Equipment Sold.

BETHESDA, May — The mechanical equipment of the defunct Commercial & Savings bank has been sold to the South Euclid bank at South Euclid. The property includes adding machines, typewriter, files, etc. State Representative H. P. Loe bought some of the real estate owned by the institution which closed last summer, due, it was claimed, to excessive loans made to a promoter. The former cashier is in the penitentiary.

APPEALS TAKEN IN SALEM CASES

Permission is Granted by Judge to File Petitions.

An appeal has been taken to common pleas court from that of Mayor George Russell, of Salem, in the case of Edgar C. Sheen, Jr., wherein the plaintiff in error was fined $100 and costs for the violation of a city ordinance which confines the erection of a gas filling station.

The motion asking to file a petition in error was filed by Metzgar & McCarty, and seven causes of error were recited in the petition, which Judge James G. Moore permitted filed. The record of the case shows that the city of Salem granted the plaintiff in error a permit to erect a new building at a cost of $1,500 and that this permit was filed April 27.

The city of Salem is also made defendant in error in the case heard in the court of Mayor Russell wherein Nick Orsahan was the defendant, charged with "possession," a violation of the state liquor laws.

In the Salem court the plaintiff in error was fined $400. It was testified that a still was being operated in the attic of the home occupied by the plaintiff in error, that gas was burning under the still, and that four barrels of mash and six gallons of whisky were taken from the room.

In this cause the court granted the motion for leave to file a petition in error, and this was done by Metzgar & McCarty, representing the plaintiff in error. At the same time the bill of exceptions and the record in the case was also filed with the petition.

PROBE IS PLANNED ON TAX RETURNS

Out of a possible 600, only 164 personal tax returns have been filed with County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton by residents of Leetonia.

But 46 tax returns have been filed from the village of Rogers.

An investigation is now proposed to ascertain why more personal tax returns were'nt filed from Leetonia, and where it is found that people have not filed returns as they should, the penalty is to be added to the returns, and all exemptions will be forfeited.

A list of those received are to be given assessors, and the assessors are to make a check against this list when they make their survey of Leetonia.

In all other communities there has been an increase in the number of tax returns, and the records show that more automobiles are owned in the Leetonia taxing district than the number of personal tax returns filed.

APPEALS TAKEN IN SALEM CASES

Permission is Granted by Judge to File Petitions.

An appeal has been taken to common pleas court from that of Mayor George Russell, of Salem, in the case of Edgar C. Sheen, Jr., wherein the plaintiff in error was fined $100 and costs for the violation of a city ordinance which confines the erection of a gas filling station.

The motion asking to file a petition in error was filed by Metzgar & McCarty, and seven causes of error were recited in the petition, which Judge James G. Moore permitted filed. The record of the case shows that the city of Salem granted the plaintiff in error a permit to erect a new building at a cost of $1,500 and that this permit was filed April 27.

The city of Salem is also made defendant in error in the case heard in the court of Mayor Russell wherein Nick Orsahan was the defendant, charged with "possession," a violation of the state liquor laws.

In the Salem court the plaintiff in error was fined $400. It was testified that a still was being operated in the attic of the home occupied by the plaintiff in error, that gas was burning under the still, and that four barrels of mash and six gallons of whisky were taken from the room.

In this cause the court granted the motion for leave to file a petition in error, and this was done by Metzgar & McCarty, representing the plaintiff in error. At the same time the bill of exceptions and the record in the case was also filed with the petition.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, at bed time.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

PROBE IS PLANNED ON TAX RETURNS

Out of a possible 600, only 164 personal tax returns have been filed with County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton by residents of Leetonia.

But 46 tax returns have been filed from the village of Rogers.

An investigation is now proposed to ascertain why more personal tax returns were'nt filed from Leetonia, and where it is found that people have not filed returns as they should, the penalty is to be added to the returns, and all exemptions will be forfeited.

A list of those received are to be given assessors, and the assessors are to make a check against this list when they make their survey of Leetonia.

In all other communities there has been an increase in the number of tax returns, and the records show that more automobiles are owned in the Leetonia taxing district than the number of personal tax returns filed.

Sixth Inning Rally Gives Chester Victory Over Nash Motors

Two Singles, Errors and Walks Are Fatal to Visiting Tossers

It All Happens in Final Frame When Riley's Crew Overcomes Three-run Lead Held by Wellsville Nine; Manning Allows Only Three Hits But Passes Fight.

AFTER having been blanked until the sixth inning of their Industrial league contest last evening at Smith field, the Chester club turned on the Wellsville Nash Motors and won out by the count of 4 to 3.

It happened this way. With a lead of three runs against them, Jackson, of the Chester tossers, faced Manning and was given a walk. Runyon booted Rector's drive. Werkheiser filled the bags as Runyon foozled his blow. W. McMath singled, scoring Jackson and Rector. Les McMath, after R. Bennett struck out, forced Werkheiser at second. Moore walked. P. Cebula singled and the two McMaths scampered home.

Going back to the opening inning, Rager, of the visitors, tripled to right and finished on Yannucci's sacrifice fly to Werkheiser. J. Morgan singled in the fourth and went around on R. Bennett's wide throw to second and Dustman's timely safety.

R. Manning singled in the fifth and scored on errors by Moore and R. Bennett, plus Rager's infield single.

Manning's pitching was at once good and bad. He gave eight passes, but he permitted only three hits. R. Bennett was steady for the Chesterites, giving no walks and allowing six safeties.

Rager, Shipley and Werkheiser contributed some fine catches in the garden. The field, damp from the Sunday rain, did not mar the playing, which was viewed by a large crowd of fans.

K. T. K. will play Wellsville at Central park, Wellsville, this evening. Club managers will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms.

BILLIARD STAR WILL PLAY HERE

His nose knows, is the claim of Prof. Lewis, of New York, champion finger billiardist of the world, and the only man in the universe playing billiards with his nose, who will give an exhibition tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the Liberty billiard parlor, and another on the following night at the National.

Lewis will play a game of 14.2 balk line of 100 points, after which he will meet some of the local stars, playing them 100 points to 50, with his fingers, and then he will play them 50 points to 25 with his nose as a cue. In concluding, Lewis will give a number of fancy shots, both with finger and nose. He says he will make a run of 300 points in 10 minutes.

Rigney picked one away in the first inning with a double play in sight and the Red Sox made capital of the incident by proceeding onward to a 7 to 4 victory over the Tigers.

AMATEURS HIT BY GOLF RULE

Qualifiers in Title Play Limited to Sixteen.

NEW YORK, May 12. — Chills and fever began running a foot race up and down the spinal column of the average amateur golfer some months ago and the latest decision rendered was a dead heat. It is likely that the race will continue up to and including the first day of the national amateur championship at Pittsburgh. It began hard upon the official announcement that only sixteen players will qualify for the match play rounds that lead to the title.

This means that there will be a great plenty of weeping, wailing and gnashing of bicuspids at the nineteenth hole when the returns on the qualifying round are posted. Only 16 will then remain in the tournament, and at this writing there are probably more than 60 amateurs in this country who may be rated as title contenders.

Upset Expected.

In former years it was the custom to qualify the 32 low scores, and even then some of our best people made a hasty though dignified exit on the first day of the meeting. With the qualifiers' number cut in half, it is inevitable, therefore, that several of the golfing aristocracy will receive a plebeian funeral.

Not even the champions — past, present and in prospect—will be immune. Bobby Jones undoubtedly is strokes better than any other amateur in the world, yet several bad holes might carry his tally close to or over the eighties. This would be suicidal with only 16 places left open.

However, the executive committee of the United States Golf Association is not disposed to pave the way for a general uprising on the part of the so-called unknowns. In fact, if any champions are eliminated in the qualifying round, it is probable that they will have the satisfaction of knowing that their scores were bettered by players of equal rank.

Entries Fewer.

This has been virtually assured by the decision of the committee to further reduce the list of championship eligibles, which may number as few as 150 when the round begins on August 31. Present indications are that only those with handicaps of three or better will be admitted when are bars are raised. And even these will be expected to furnish proof of their ability, including their tournament record for the last two years.

In short, the tendency is toward fewer and fancier entries.

SIX ENTRANTS IN DERBY TRIAL

Mile Event to be Staged Today at Churchill Downs.

By Thomas Temple Hoyne.

LOUISVILLE, May 12.—Something of a line on half a dozen of the derby candidates will be given this afternoon in the derby trial at Churchill Downs. The race is at one mile and six entrants are the Ziegler pair, Borderland and Needle Gun, the Xatapa farm stable pair, Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon, Kentucky Cardinal and Step Along.

The Croissant colt, Kentucky Cardinal, is in with top weight of 117 pounds and this is his first start as a three-year-old.

Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon are fresh from the east. They will carry 114 and 111 pounds, respectively. The former is the one that will probably meet the fancy of many of the dopesters. Step Along also is a favorite of many.

Mark Master, the derby colt that was suffering from a quarter crack that became infected, was well enough again to work an easy mile at Douglas Park this morning. He covered it in 1:47 1-5, and his trainer, George Walker, is still hopeful that the colt will be in good enough shape to start in the derby.

As the date for the big race approaches the idea that it will be no cinch for the favorite, Quatrain, is broadcasting. At this moment it still looks like a mighty open race.

Visitors are beginning to pour into this city from all directions. Last night Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo got in from Owensboro. They will dine with Governor Wm. J. Fields at Frankfort tomorrow evening. On Saturday they will be in a box at Churchill Downs.

Tom Cartwright's Salineville Nine Billed At Newell

Will Clash With Barney Bricelin's Laughlin Industrial League Club in Opening Tilt of Independent Schedule.

Newell baseball fans, who last Saturday were given their City Industrial league opening tilt, are in for another "opening day" exhibition on the coming Saturday afternoon when Barney Bricelin's crew will stage the inaugural tilt of their independent schedule.

Officals of the Laughlin China club today announced that Tom Cartwright's Salineville tossers will share honors with the Laughlins in the festivities.

Manager Bricelin will send his crack industrial league team against the visitors.

In addition to the Saturday clash, Bricelin's club also faces two other games during the closing stages of the week, playing on Thursday and Friday afternoon, both engagements being carded at Newell diamond.

Joseph Dickey, Laughlin plant welfare director, today announced the organization of the Laughlin Greys, an independent club, which will operate solely among the independents and semi-pros of the district, playing games both at home and abroad. Hamilton English is manager of the new outfit. He has issued a call for a practice drill tonight at Newell diamond.

Bricelin's club is billed for a workout on Wednesday evening.

Hoyt And Scott May Be Traded To Chisox

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Edward G. Barrow, who directs the destinies of the New York Yankees, except on the ball field, is headed west today to lend what aid he may in the further dismantling of that once proud ball club. The process of demolition, begun with the benching of Everett Scott last week, probably will be continued via a trade with the White Sox in Chicago, where the Yankees are doing their elderly best to step along the American league pace.

The first of the Yanks said to be ticketed for immediate transfer is Waite Hoyt. He is still in his middle twenties and should be a great right hander. He was but isn't. A change of scene might prove extremely beneficial to Hoyt and probably he will get it.

Scott is another who has outlasted his welcome at the Yankee stadium. He was eased out of the line-up after playing 1,307 consecutive games and at the time took occasion to predict that he "would never sit on the bench."

The Sox, having been in need of infielders since the 1919 scandal wafted Risberg, Weaver and Gandil to the outer darkness of baseball's forgotten, would be i na position to give Scott more active work than he could find with the New York club.

Sam Jones and Bob Shawkey also come under the head of trading possibilities, although it is not likely that the Sox will become emotional about Shawkey. He seems to be about at the end of his major league rope.

If the Yankees give pitchers, however, they will want pitchers in return and the Sox can hardly be said to reek with the breed. In the matter of acceptable trading material, they have Faber, Robertson, Connally, Blankenship, Leverette, Davenport and Thurston, constituting their first string staff. There is hardly one of them that Eddie Collins would not relinquish on the promise of Hoyt's future with his club.

The Yankees may be willing to pass Scott along without getting his equivalent in infield material, but in that case they will want something else, to wit, a hard hitting outfielder.

They are in desperate need of such a man with Ruth out of the line-up for an indefinite period, and are said to be peering fixedly at either Bob Falk or Johnny Mostil. Repeated efforts apparently have convinced them that they cannot get Falk, but Mostil is a fare possibility.

Jockey Still Unconscious.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Jockey Benjamin Marinelli, who sustained a fractured skull in a jam at the Jamaica race track last Friday, reached his ninetieth hour without regaining consciousness at 9 o'clock this morning.

Sixth Inning Rally Gives Chester Victory Over Nash Motors

Two Singles, Errors and Walks Are Fatal to Visiting Tossers

It All Happens in Final Frame When Riley's Crew Overcomes Three-run Lead Held by Wellsville Nine; Manning Allows Only Three Hits But Passes Fight.

AFTER having been blanked until the sixth inning of their Industrial league contest last evening at Smith field, the Chester club turned on the Wellsville Nash Motors and won out by the count of 4 to 3.

It happened this way. With a lead of three runs against them, Jackson, of the Chester tossers, faced Manning and was given a walk. Runyon booted Rector's drive. Werkheiser filled the bags as Runyon foozled his blow. W. McMath singled, scoring Jackson and Rector. Les McMath, after R. Bennett struck out, forced Werkheiser at second. Moore walked. P. Cebula singled and the two McMaths scampered home.

Going back to the opening inning, Rager, of the visitors, tripled to right and finished on Yannucci's sacrifice fly to Werkheiser. J. Morgan singled in the fourth and went around on R. Bennett's wide throw to second and Dustman's timely safety.

R. Manning singled in the fifth and scored on errors by Moore and R. Bennett, plus Rager's infield single.

Manning's pitching was at once good and bad. He gave eight passes, but he permitted only three hits. R. Bennett was steady for the Chesterites, giving no walks and allowing six safeties.

Rager, Shipley and Werkheiser contributed some fine catches in the garden. The field, damp from the Sunday rain, did not mar the playing, which was viewed by a large crowd of fans.

K. T. K. will play Wellsville at Central park, Wellsville, this evening. Club managers will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms.

SPORTSMEN PLAN SUPPER MAY 22

Officials of the East Liverpool branch of the Columbiana County Fish and Game association today announced a special meeting of the organization will be held on Wednesday evening in the Fowler building in the Diamond.

The sportsmen expect to apply the finishing touches to plans for their annual fish supper, which will be held on Friday evening, May 22, in the Eagles 'home, Broadway.

J. C. Miller, secretary of the fish and game association, today announced that he received preliminary word of the shipment of 100 pheasant eggs from the state game farm at Hudson for distribution in the immediate territory.

SIX ENTRANTS IN DERBY TRIAL

Mile Event to be Staged Today at Churchill Downs.

By Thomas Temple Hoyne.

LOUISVILLE, May 12.—Something of a line on half a dozen of the derby candidates will be given this afternoon in the derby trial at Churchill Downs. The race is at one mile and six entrants are the Ziegler pair, Borderland and Needle Gun, the Xatapa farm stable pair, Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon, Kentucky Cardinal and Step Along.

The Croissant colt, Kentucky Cardinal, is in with top weight of 117 pounds and this is his first start as a three-year-old.

Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon are fresh from the east. They will carry 114 and 111 pounds, respectively. The former is the one that will probably meet the fancy of many of the dopesters. Step Along also is a favorite of many.

Mark Master, the derby colt that was suffering from a quarter crack that became infected, was well enough again to work an easy mile at Douglas Park this morning. He covered it in 1:47 1-5, and his trainer, George Walker, is still hopeful that the colt will be in good enough shape to start in the derby.

As the date for the big race approaches the idea that it will be no cinch for the favorite, Quatrain, is broadcasting. At this moment it still looks like a mighty open race.

Visitors are beginning to pour into this city from all directions. Last night Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo got in from Owensboro. They will dine with Governor Wm. J. Fields at Frankfort tomorrow evening. On Saturday they will be in a box at Churchill Downs.

Tom Cartwright's Salineville Nine Billed At Newell

Will Clash With Barney Bricelin's Laughlin Industrial League Club in Opening Tilt of Independent Schedule.

Newell baseball fans, who last Saturday were given their City Industrial league opening tilt, are in for another "opening day" exhibition on the coming Saturday afternoon when Barney Bricelin's crew will stage the inaugural tilt of their independent schedule.

Officals of the Laughlin China club today announced that Tom Cartwright's Salineville tossers will share honors with the Laughlins in the festivities.

Manager Bricelin will send his crack industrial league team against the visitors.

In addition to the Saturday clash, Bricelin's club also faces two other games during the closing stages of the week, playing on Thursday and Friday afternoon, both engagements being carded at Newell diamond.

Joseph Dickey, Laughlin plant welfare director, today announced the organization of the Laughlin Greys, an independent club, which will operate solely among the independents and semi-pros of the district, playing games both at home and abroad. Hamilton English is manager of the new outfit. He has issued a call for a practice drill tonight at Newell diamond.

Bricelin's club is billed for a workout on Wednesday evening.

Hoyt And Scott May Be Traded To Chisox

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Edward G. Barrow, who directs the destinies of the New York Yankees, except on the ball field, is headed west today to lend what aid he may in the further dismantling of that once proud ball club. The process of demolition, begun with the benching of Everett Scott last week, probably will be continued via a trade with the White Sox in Chicago, where the Yankees are doing their elderly best to step along the American league pace.

The first of the Yanks said to be ticketed for immediate transfer is Waite Hoyt. He is still in his middle twenties and should be a great right hander. He was but isn't. A change of scene might prove extremely beneficial to Hoyt and probably he will get it.

Scott is another who has outlasted his welcome at the Yankee stadium. He was eased out of the line-up after playing 1,307 consecutive games and at the time took occasion to predict that he "would never sit on the bench."

The Sox, having been in need of infielders since the 1919 scandal wafted Risberg, Weaver and Gandil to the outer darkness of baseball's forgotten, would be i na position to give Scott more active work than he could find with the New York club.

Sam Jones and Bob Shawkey also come under the head of trading possibilities, although it is not likely that the Sox will become emotional about Shawkey. He seems to be about at the end of his major league rope.

If the Yankees give pitchers, however, they will want pitchers in return and the Sox can hardly be said to reek with the breed. In the matter of acceptable trading material, they have Faber, Robertson, Connally, Blankenship, Leverette, Davenport and Thurston, constituting their first string staff. There is hardly one of them that Eddie Collins would not relinquish on the promise of Hoyt's future with his club.

The Yankees may be willing to pass Scott along without getting his equivalent in infield material, but in that case they will want something else, to wit, a hard hitting outfielder.

They are in desperate need of such a man with Ruth out of the line-up for an indefinite period, and are said to be peering fixedly at either Bob Falk or Johnny Mostil. Repeated efforts apparently have convinced them that they cannot get Falk, but Mostil is a fare possibility.

Jockey Still Unconscious.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Jockey Benjamin Marinelli, who sustained a fractured skull in a jam at the Jamaica race track last Friday, reached his ninetieth hour without regaining consciousness at 9 o'clock this morning.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW-TRIBUNE

FINAL EDITION

VOL. XLV. NO. 163. 12 PAGES EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1925. FOUNDED 1876. 2c A COPY

TODAY

Libeling the President.
Rubber, Oil, Up. Cotton Down.
Censoring Prayer.
Halved in One.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Samuel Untermyer, able lawyer and very rich, likes to feel important and achieve notoriety, and that is natural. What's the use of being somebody if nobody knows it?

But, Mr. Untermyer presents himself in a bad light when he makes what is interpreted as an attack on President Coolidge's integrity.

J. P. Morgan & Co., are interested in General Electric, of course, and in 100 other big concerns. Dwight Morrow is a partner in the Morgan concern. He is President Coolidge's friend and has been the President's gest upon the Mayflower and elsewhere.

But, Dwight Morrow visits the President on a basis of friendship dating back to the days when they were classmates. Their friendship did not begin with Mr. Morrow's Morgan & Co. connection.

The people believe in the absolute integrity of President Coolidge. They know that no man's money interests him and that his mind is on the public service.

Naturally he will not give up the friends of his youth even to oblige Mr. Untermyer.

The latter, who has done much useful work in his day, does not add to it by his attack on the President. And, the attack being made in such a way as to make direct reply impossible makes it worse.

The people believe in President Coolidge.

You are interested in business prosperity, the "maret," which is the polite name for stock speculation. The high spots, as the new week begins with its Sunday for thought and its six chances for work are these:

Oil is higher, Standard Oil of Indiana raises the price in the Smackover field from 40 to 60 cents.

That cheers oil stock owners. Crude rubber costs more and tire prices should rise. That's pleasant for owners of tire stocks. It interests Henry Ford mildly. He is experimenting with a rubber plantation in Florida.

A difference of one dollar per tire and tube would cost Ford about $7,500,000 a year extra for his production of 24,000 wheels per day. But, when you try to raise Ford's costs, you meet "price resistance."

The outlook for the automobile industry is excellent and all branches of the industry and the stock thereof are more cheerful.

Cotton, unfortunately had a bad week due to selling in Liverpool, heavy rains, much needed in Texas and a break in the price of wool.

However, the break should not have affected the new crop. Those selling cotton several months ahead of time are inviting trouble.

Rev. Mr. Mutchler, invited to open a session of the Iowa legislature with prayer, asked a blessing for the child labor amendment.

That did not please all the legislators and there is a suggestion that prayers be censored previous to their ascent to the throne above.

In the way of censorship, that seems close to the limit. Don't those lawmakers know that what the preacher thinks is known above, whether he says it out loud or not? And is not the Lord able to protect Himself from ill advised praying even uncensored?

The well-known Solly Wertheim, warned by his lawyer, does not utter all that he feels, but turning to a person disliked, he will say, "for what I am thinking you could have me put

HINDENBURG BECOMES GERMANY'S CHIEF AMID DISCORD AND CHEERS

Communists Shout "Down With Capitalists, Long Live World Revolution," While Nationals Applaud as Aged Field Marshal Enters Reichstag and Takes Oath of Office.

SWEARS ALLEGIANCE TO WEIMAR CONSTITUTION, BASIS OF REPUBLIC

President Prefaces Declaration With Phrase "By God," Saying "I Shall Devote My Strength to German People, Serve for Their Benefit, Avert Trouble and Practice Justice."

BERLIN, May 12.—Field Marshal Paul Von Hindenburg, taking office as president of Germany today, solemnly proclaimed his allegiance to the constitution of the republic and dedicated his efforts to the whole German nation in its bitter economic struggle.

In his first mention of the republic since a plurality of nearly a million named him its leader, the veteran warrior in unmistakable terms pledged his loyalty to the ideals of popular sovereignty.

Minor Communist disorders marred his initial appearance in the reichstag to take the presidential oath. There were shouts of "Down with the capitalists — Long live the world revolution"—from the left wing.

"Three cheers for Hindenburg," was the nationalist bloc's response. When Hindenburg began his speech, the Communist deputies rose and left the chamber.

Pledges Allegiance

But as the old general his face pale with apparent sincerity, solemnly voiced his allegiance to the Republic and to the causes of the people, shouts of "bravo * * *" broke from the Reichstag and at the conclusion of his address the whole assemblage tumultously joined in three cheers.

"I have taken my oath as president according to the Republican constitution * * *"

"The Reichstag and the Reich's president belong together. Both are elected by the German people."

"* * * the people's sovereignty is the basis of our whole constitutional life."

Thus tersely the old fighter pledged himself.

"My striving will not be for one class, but the whole nation.

"I will work for truth and justice * * * to give the german national worthy place."

Touch of War Bitterness.

A touch of war bitterness crept in when he said:

"My first greeting is to all those working in the hard economic struggle to free the German name from an undeserved blot."

He issued a separate proclamation to the German army and navy, saying both belonged to the entire state and the entire nation.

The old soldier appeared tired when the ceremonies were completed. From

BERLIN PRESS CITES DANGERS

BERLIN, May 12.—The German newspapers took the opportunity to moralize today on the future of Germany and to point out dangers which they viewed as threatening the Republic. The Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts said:

"The nation must protect the Republic. Any constitution is a scrap of paper unless there is an actual supporting power behind it.

G. H. MARTIN DIES IN WEST

George C. Thompson's Uncle Succumbs in Denver.

George H. Martin, 73 years old, former East Liverpool resident, and an uncle of George C. Thompson, died last night in his home in Denver, Col., relatives here were advised today.

He was born in Wellsville, but lived here for many years before going to the west. His wife, who was Miss Emma Bloor, died several years ago.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Donald McGregor, Cleveland; two nephews, George C. and Dale D. Thompson, both of this city, and three nieces, Mrs. Howard Ray, Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. Charles S. Stewart, De Land, Fla., and Mrs. Minnie Thompson Moore, New York city.

Unaware that his uncle had died, George C. Thompson left here last night for Mr. Martin's bedside.

The body will be brought here for burial.

John Stamm Tosses Hat Into Ring For City Auditor Post

A second aspirant for the Republican nomination for city auditor tossed his hat into the political arena today.

He is John Stamm, former city treasurer and ex-member of the board of education. Stamm will oppose William M. McGraw, present incumbent, who some time ago announced his candidacy for a third term.

Candidates seeking party nomination have until midnight of June 12 to certify their names to the election board in order to get places on the ballot for the primaries.

New Cumberland Tot Drinks Iodine But Will Recover

Maxine, three-year old daughter of Mrs. Margaret Walters of New Cumberland, is recovering today from the effects of drinking iodine.

Mrs. Walters and the child had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wycoff, residing back of New Cumberland, and the youngster, without her mother's knowledge, drained the contents of a small bottle of iodine which she supposed to be medicine.

Dr. Cramer, of New Cumberland, was called and antidotes were immediately administered. Fearing the child's condition to be serious, she was brought to the City hospital here, but was discharged when the danger mark was passed.

TRIO ARRESTED FOR FIGHTING

Charles Stephens, Flane Bettridge and Harry Podwell, all of Pleasant Heights were arrested at the corner of Central and Pennsylvania avenue by Patrolman Chester Smith at 11:30 o'clock last night, on charges of disorderly conduct by fighting. They were released on bond for their appearance before Mayor Brown for a hearing.

COOLIDGE SMOKES 10-CENT CIGARS

NEW YORK, May 12.—President Coolidge smokes 10-cent cigars and he doesn't care for the higher price brands.

This was revealed today by Charles D. Hilles, president of the Ohio society.

A Mr. Hammond, a friend of the president, visited Mr. Coolidge at the White House, Hilles said, and found him enjoying a 10-cent cheroot. A day or two later Hammond sent the president a box of expensive cigars.

When Hammond visited the president again he found him smoking the same 10-cent brand.

The president explained he was very much like Jim Jackson, of Northampton, who paid 50 cents to attend an ice cream social—everything free. Jackson didn't eat his large plate of strawberry ice cream, explaining:

"If I did, I'm afraid it would spoil my taste for prunes."

Mr. Coolidge doesn't want to destroy his taste for 10-cent cigars.

PLAYLOT DAY IS POSTPONED UNTIL JUNE 5

Change Made Because of Conflict With Vets' Poppy Day.

SEEK $1,200 HERE

Foreign War Soldiers Sell Flowers During Week of May 23.

Due to a conflict with the proposed poppy sale drive of Private Eddy Post No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, "Playground Day," tentatively set for Saturday, May 23, has been postponed until Friday, June 5, "circus day," Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, announced today.

The change was made after Mrs. Bowers had been informed that the sale of "buddy" poppies, by the Veterans of Foreign Wars would open on May 23, one week prior to Decoration Day in accordance with a custom of previous years. As most of the potteries will be idle on Friday, June 5, when John Robinson's circus is scheduled to exhibit here, this date was selected by the playground workers for their drive for funds to maintain the playlot this summer.

A novelty, similar to the miniature baby dolls sold last summer, will be used in the campaign. The sale will be conducted by club women, assisted by high school girls, who will circulate about the streets and through the stores from morning until night. Several workers will be assigned to the circus grounds both afternoon and

MANGIN, WORLD WAR HERO, DIES

Commanded Combined French-American Army at Somme.

PARIS, May 12.—General Charles Mangin, who commanded the combined French-American army in the battle of the Somme, died here today.

General Mangin's death resulted from a sudden attack of uremia and acute appendicities.

General Mangin was one of the famous generals of the world war. He was decorated by the American government for distinguished service. He commanded the tenth French army, including the American first division at Cantingy, and the first and second divisions at Soissons during the famous July 18th drive.

FIVE PERSONS ESCAPE INJURY AS MOTOR CAR FALLS 15 FEET

Rev. W. G. Long's Auto Goes Over Declivity Near Kountz Ave.

BLAME HEADLIGHT

Offending Driver Fails to Stop Following Accident.

Five persons escaped serious injury at 8 o'clock last night, when an automobile owned and driven by Rev. W. G. Long, Cadmus street, plunged over a 15 foot embankment on the Wellsville-East Liverpool road, east of Kountz avenue.

The car, in addition to Rev. Long, carried his two sons, Howard and Donald; his daughter, Mrs. Julia Hart, and her husband, Ralph Hart, all of this city. Donald Long and Mrs. Hart were pinned beneath the machine when it came to a stop, but were unhurt.

The party was returning to East Liverpool from Wellsville at the time of the accident. Rev. Long claims that he was blinded by the glare of the headlights of another machine, approaching from the opposite direction, and dropped off the side of the road into a ditch, causing the car to overturn before he could stop it.

The driver of the machine alleged to have been responsible for the accident stopped for a minute, but learning that no one was hurt, disappeared before he could be recognized or his license number ascertained.

The top of the Long automobile was wrecked and the machine damaged otherways.

SPARE ELDER COOLIDGE FROM LETTER CRANKS

Curiosity Seekers and Writers Blamed for Colonel's Illness.

TAXES STRENGTH

Thoughtless Persons Intrude on Seclusion of Man, Aged 80.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., May 12. — Col. John C. Coolidge, father of the president, must be spared by curiosity seekers and correspondence cranks.

This was the edict today of the colonel's personal physician, Dr. Cram, who visited the 80-year-old man following his momentary collapse.

Hundreds of thoughtless persons from far and wide have been intruding weekly on the seclusion of the colonel and letter writers the country over have been swamping him with mail.

Colonel Coolidge has deemed it his duty to greet all who visit the birthplace of the president here and to burn the midnight oil answering the mass of unsolicited correspondence. The colonel, proud of his son, is glad to be of service to those who have honored his boy.

Has Fainting Spell.

The fact that he is 80 years old, that he has always lived in the quiet and seclusion of the hills and that advanced age has brought on slight hardening of the arteries has made the work of receiving and writing doubly hard for the president's father.

Dr. Cram said today that despite the fainting spell the colonel seemed in improved health today, even better than he has been for some weeks. The physician said the only explanation of the faiting was that possibly the heart skipped a beat. He ordered his patient not to be too active.

Col. Coolidge was up and about his farm early today making light of his condition.

'I never know how I fell until I see the newspapers," he remarked.

Frost Last Night Hit Ohio Grapes And Strawberries

WOOSTER, May 12.—Considerable damage to grapes and strawberries and some damage to fruit was done last night by the weather drop which sent the mercury to 29 degrees at the Ohio experiment station here. ALIBI DEFENSE OF FRED LONGO IN WELLSVILLE MURDER TRIAL

Slayer James Gagliardi Brought From Prison to Testify.

SON ON STAND

State Expects to Prove Plot Against Mrs. Desmonia.

An alibi will be the defense of Fred Longo, of Canton, indicted for first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Vincenzio Desmonia, of Wellsville, it was declared at Lisbon today by his chief counsel, James E. O'Grady, of Wellsville.

Prosecutor's Statement.

The defense was outlined by O'Grady in the opening statement to Judge James Glenn, of Coshocton, who is presiding, and the six men and six women in the jury box who will decide the fate of the prisoner.

Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes, in his statement said that the state expected to show by witnesses that 50 to 75 pellets had been found in the body of Mrs. Desmonia and that five shots had been fired at her. He declared that the state expected to prove that killers had been brought from Canton to exact Mrs. Desmonia's life.

James Gagliardi, of Wellsville, who is serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary, following his conviction of first degree murder, with mercy recommended, in the killing of Rocco Benvento, who was slain on the afternoon of Feb. 22, last, the day that Mrs. Desmonia was fatally shot, was the first witness called when the taking of testimony began today.

Gagliardi's Testimony.

Gagliardi, summoned by the state as a surprise witness, was brought to Lisbon early today by Penitentiary Guard Cutter, of Columbus, who will remain in charge of the prisoner until he is returned to his cell.

Thomas Campsey was sworn as interpreter by the state, while the defense also had an interpreter.

Gagliardi, who recounted incidents at the Desmonia home the Sunday afternoon Benevento was killed, testified that he had never seen Longo, accused of killing Mrs. Desmonia, until he appeared in the courtroom today.

ROTARY VIEWS BUSINESS FILM

J. D. Maddox, Pittsburgh, Speaker at Noon Luncheon.

A motion picture, depicting the manufacture of seamless steel tubes, was shown at the luncheon of the Rotary club at the Y. M. C. A. at noon today. The picture was made at the plant now owned by the Babcock-Wilcox company, at Beaver Falls, until recently operated under the name of the Pittsburgh Seamless Tube company.

President F. L. Wells, Wellsville, presided. The chorus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochrane, with Mrs. Danks Cochran as accompanist. About 60 members and their guests attended.

Announcement was made of the golf tournament, which will be a feature of the International Rotary convention to be held in Cleveland on June 17. Joseph M. Wells and others whom he may select will represent the East Liverpool club in the various tournaments, two of which will be for trophies.

In accordance with a custom established several years ago, the club will present medals to the first honor student and the greatest effort student in the graduating class of the local high school. A committee consisting of B. H. Cochran, H. B. Barth and Leon Rubin was named to purchase the medals, which will be awarded early in June.

President Wells announced the personnel of the various club committees for the year. He then introduced Anthony Koehler, head of the experimenting plant of the Babcock-Wilcox company, of this city, chairman for the day.

J. D. Maddox, Pittsburgh, also representing the Babcock-Wilcox company, who was introduced by Mr. Koehler, spoke concerning the manufacture of steel tubes.

STATE CLOSES SENSATIONAL LORAIN "LOVE COTTAGE" CASE AS ACCUSED GIRL CHARGES "FRAME-UP"

ELYRIA, O., May 12.—The state closed its case against Miss Lucille Jones, 20, daughter of Rev. T. Howard Jones today. Arguments were begun during the morning session, and it was expected that the case would reach the jury late this afternoon, probably about 4 o'clock.

Miss Jones is on trial in common pleas court here charged with having arranged clandestine meetings between girls and men at a "love cottage" in Lorain.

Today the state attempted to repair breaches made in its case by the testimony of defense witnesses, who had attacked the credibility of several of the leading witnesses for the state.

Star Witnesses Recalled

Ethel Kun, 15-year old girl, furnished the daily sensation, when she appeared on the witness stand wearing a brand new cerise hat. She denied absolutely statements attributed to her by Rev. Jones in which he testified that she had told him she must implicate Lucille or face a sentence to the girls' industrial school.

Marion Stevens, Eugene Penrod and Archie Dennison were others called by the state to refute the testimony of defense witnesses that the case was a "frame-up" and made in an effort to "get old man Jones."

Stevens, one of the witnesses first called, denied that he had ever told Dan Gochenour, William Kimmel or Raymond Conrad that he knew nothing against Lucille, and that it "was all spite work."

Witness Contradicts Himself.

Eugene Penrod testified that he was present at the Kun home when Ethel was brought back from Elyria after her escapade with William Monschein, another state witness, but did not hear Rev. Jones tell Ethel to "tell the whole truth," as the clergyman testified that he had done.

On cross-examination, he contradicted this and admitted he had heard the minister urge Ethel to speak the truth.

He also admitted that last Sunday he had talked with Rev. Jones about the case and offered to testify for the defense, at the same time asking the minister to help protect him.

Archie Dennison, the fourth witness, was present at the Kun home when Ethel was brought back by Rev. Jones and his daughter.

He testified that he heard nothing relative to telling the truth, but admitted on cross-examination that he was asleep on a lounge for an hour and one-half, and that much might have been said during his nap.

SCHOOL CHIEF TO BE CHOSEN

Board of Education Will Not Act Before May 21.

Election of a successor to F. P. Geiger, as superintendent of the East Liverpool public schools will not likely be considered until the next meeting of the board of education, which will be held on Thursday, May 21, President J. H. Brookes announced today.

In a letter forwarded to the board today, Mr. Geiger announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

His contract expires August 31 and, according to custom, the board will name a superintendent before school dismisses or shortly thereafter.

Superintendent Geiger announced Saturday that he had accepted the superintendency of the schools at New Philadelphia. He will assume his new duties September 1.

His communication to the school board is as follows:

Having recently received offers of three business propositions and another school proposition, it is now definitely decided that I will not be a candidate for re-election to my present position. The board members, therefore, are free under the school laws to select my successor at their pleasure.

"Thanking the board members for co-operation shown, support given, and courtesies extended to me as superintendent of schools during the past eight years, I am,

"Yours very truly,
F. P. GEIGER.

NATIONAL VIGILANCE COMMITTEE WARNS OF SUBSCRIPTION AGENT

The National Vigilance committee, in a circular bulletin, which has just been received by the Chamber of Commerce, tells of the operations of an alleged subscription agent, R. W. Larsen by name, who, it is charged, recently victimized Cleveland people. Larsen is alleged to have collected $6 for subscriptions to Harper's Magazine. Publishers of the magazine declare they have no one by the name of Larsen in their employ. Larsen disappeared shortly after it was learned that he was under investigation.

Another bulletin tells of the conviction of Nathan E. Parris and Joseph Parris, operators of the Nate Parris Smackover Syndicate of El Dorado, Ark., upon charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of oil stock.

Other bulletins deal with the alleged fraudulent operations of James R. Burton, who recently opened an office in Cleveland as a representative for the General Motors Corporation; the Mechanical Machine Works of Baltimore, Maryland, in promoting the sale of peanut machines, and Alexander F. Brandau, who is alleged to be connected with the National Directory Service company in the compilation of a new directory.

WILL NOT MOVE CAR TRACKS

Present Route to be Followed in Wells Avenue Paving.

Because of a property owner's demanad for $50,000 damages, the tracks of the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company on Wells avenue, Wellsville, will not be re-located. This has resulted in the county commissioners notifying the traction company and the city of Wellsville to proceed with the improvement of this highway under the terms and conditions of the contract that has been awarded George B. Patterson of Wellsville.

It was the desire of the commissioners and the contracting interests to acquire sufficient land, formerly a part of the site of the old Lyth sewer pipe plant, and when the matter was taken up with the present owners of the property, damages totaling $50,000 were asked. The commissioners then issued an order that the improvement of Wells avenue be proceeded with at once under the old contract, and upon the same route now used.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calonite powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

GLAND STIMULATION BUILDS UP HEALTH

Dr. Peter Schmidt, a colleague of Dr. Steinach, the famous Viennese surgeon, in a recent address given in Berlin, said that gland stimulation sends new forces into the body and builds up all bodily functions.

The object of glandular treatment is to receive the devitalized glands so they may continue their normal function of supplying the vital glandular secretions so necessary to physical energy and perfect health.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store will supply you.

Grant District School Bond Issue

In effort to overcome undesirable conditions in present buildings as well as to prepare for the future growth of the community, electors of Newell, Congo and the Rock Springs precinct of Grant district, West Virginia, will pass upon a proposed $60,000 bond issue for a new school building next Monday.

The proceeds of the bond issue are to be used for the purchase of a site and the erection of a modern one-story school building in Newell, which is to contain eight standard rooms, gymnasium, auditorium and basement, and for the purpose of drilling a water well at the Grandview school, back of Newell, and to finish and equip the Grandview building.

Congestion in the present school building in Newell is such that larger quarters are required. At present, rooms are overcrowded, thus proving not only a disadvantage from a comfort standpoint, but also reacting in other ways against the youthful charges of the teachers.

Approval of the bond issue means money well spent, for erection of the Newell building and improvements at the Grandview building are not only necessary in order to meet the present situation, but the investment shall serve to anticipate an increase in the school population in coming years.

The proposed $60,000 bond issue means a levy of only 11 cents on the $100 valuation, or $1.10 on $1,000. This is a small sum to invest for education.

If the people of the district are interested in the welfare of their children and their neighbors' children, they will sanction the plans of the district board of education.

Metropolitan Evolution

A New York engineer, trying to work out a "regional plan" for the future development of the metropolis, confesses that he finds difficulty with the traffic problem.

The city in 1923 had 366,000 licensed automobiles and trucks. He says that in 40 years there will be 2,260,000 registered cars there, and 6,720,000 in the metropolitan region. There may be a few million visiting cars there, too.

The engineer feels in his bones that about that time, and maybe sooner, the north-and-south thoroughfares are going to clog up. He suggests elevated streets for motor traffic, with fewer intersections, and various other changes.

It might be simpler if New York would follow the example of beavers, when their quarters become hopelessly cluttered up, and move out. That would leave Manhattan Island for parking space.

A Scattered Orchestra

A musical novelty bobs up in South Africa. A radio duet of violin and piano was broadcast from Johannesburg with the players 40 miles apart.

They did it by using crystal sets with head phones to listen in on each other while they played. One performer was in the broadcasting studio and the other was connected with the studio by wire. The players had no difficulty in keeping time. Their performance synchronized so perfectly that hearers could not tell the difference.

This opens up many possibilities. If two musicians can play together by radio while far apart, many can do so. We may yet have symphony concerts with the players scattered all over the country and only the director in the studio. A play might be given in the same way. It should be a simple matter to obtain the services of a star performer, no matter where he might be at the time.

Storing War Funds

Here is something interesting about Finland that has nothing to do with athletics. That doughty little country proposes to establish a "war chest" of 100,000,000 marks. And either because it doesn't trust its own banks or because it doesn't trust its immediate neighbors, it proposes to deposit the cash in foreign banking houses. Wherein it differs from imperial, pre-war Germany.

It may be a good plan. Finland isn't likely to misuse any such fund, especially if it is placed in safe hands. And possibly it is not indelicate to suggest that America would make an extremely safe repository for the fund.

The idea grows on you, as you think it over. What a fine thing it would be if all the European countries put their war funds in cold storage over here!

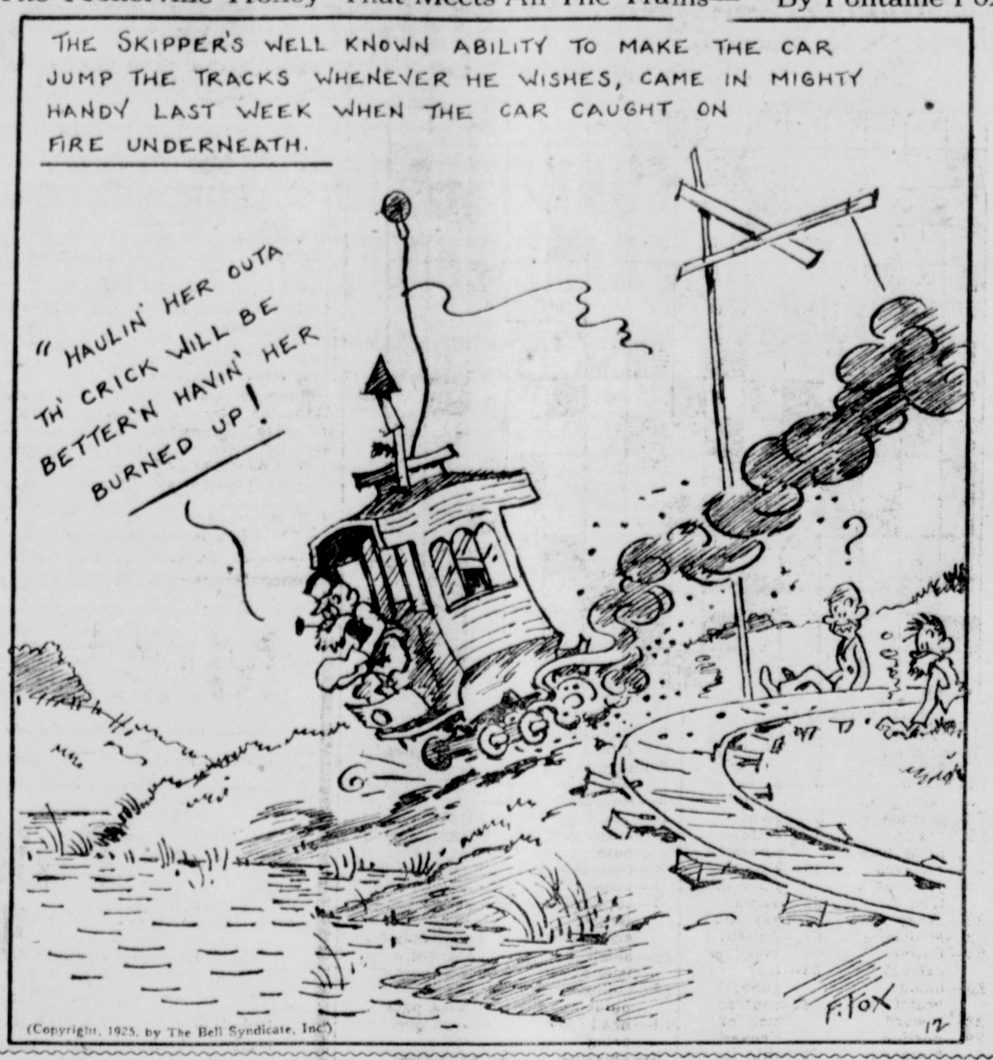
The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox



NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 12.—For 22 years Parker has been a valet. He has that strange, quiet dignity that a valet of all menials achieves. His master to him is "my gentleman." So far as is known he has no relatives and no acquaintances outside of the household that employs him.

The sole decoration of his sleeping room is a yellowing photograph of an English country squire—his father's "gentleman." His father and grandfather before him were valets. Now and then Parker goes to painting exhibitions and he subscribes to Punch.

There are hundreds of Parekrs in New York. They are curiously shy and self effacing, and yet somehow they give you a feeling they are not to be ruffled. I asked Parker's employer if he had ever quarreled with Parker. "Once," he said, "and I felt ashamed for days."

There is a theatrical producer who has a valet named Hooper. He is such a perfect servant that the producer thought as an experiment he would have him do a little "buttling" in the musical play he was producing. He was all right at rehearsals doing his small bit, but the night the play opened he walked on the stage and fell in a dead faint.

In many of the avenue mansions there are butlers who on special occasions don knickerbockers and powdered wigs to open the huge doors. Otherwise they are rarely seen save in the late evening along side streets puffing at their pipes. The trained valet will not smoke in the house.

There is a story of a former puddler who joined the noveauxriche. He acquired one of those doleful valets who had lost his employer by death. The first evening the new master asked for Scotch and soda. When it was brought he said: "Mix one yourself, Meadows!"

"I couldn't do that, sir," he said, turned on his heel and left the room, the house and the job. All of which shows the well trained valet will work for you but you must not wax familiar.

Beauty, as has been said, is largely in the eye of the beholder. One of New York's handsomest Beau Brummels is married to a lantern jawed woman with a thin neck and the complexion of oatmeal. In every gathering he raves about her beauty and his secretary spends most of her time trying to get her picture in the newspapers as one or the town's beauties.

Speaking of beauty, a visiting European portrait painter says the most beautiful girls he saw in New York were the cafe cigarette girls. Others have noticed this. There is, too, an intangible air of sorrow about them. They do not appear to fit with the bizarre surroundings. They go quietly from table to table. "Cigars! Cigarettes!" and there is a fluted cadence to their singsong cry. They are nightingales among the nighthawks. They repulse tipsy patrons with maidenly innocence. In the old days of Maxim's the tragic little Celeste was one of the attractions. This humble cigarette girl far outshone the beauties of the cabaret. She married a cast-off son of a very rich man. He afterward became paralyzed and she is still taking care of him. But her beauty has faded and she is now a waitress in a Tenth Avenue restaurant.

One of Broadway's wits is carted off to Palm Beach, Europe and other places by those who enjoy his convicial companionship. It is understood his expenses are to be paid. In this dubious fashion he seems to get along even though his self respect, if any, may be slightly dented. The other day he came into a gathering where one of the party was slightly owled.

"Ah!" said he of the wit. "Here comes the guest of the world."

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

To End Pistol Toting

NEW YORK CITY, May 12.—The crusade against pistol toting, which was started by Judge William McAdoo, chief city magistrate and former police commissioner of New York City, at the last International Police Conference, is to be renewed at the gathering of police authorities of the world.

Richard E. Enright, the present head of the police department of New York, says of Judge McAdoo, "I know of no man in the entire country who has given a closer study to the problem of the manufacture, sale and distribution of firearms used in the commission of crimes and the dangerous condition that it has caused in this country," and with that introduction to lend weight to his words Judge McAdoo calls the pistol the curse of America and declares that it has come to be almost the national badge.

"We will never get anywhere with the pistol question, says the magistrate, "until we lay a ghost, a specious argument, a popular delusion, to wit—that an honest, law-abiding citizen has the advantage when he is armed. I say from my experience and my reading, both as police commissioner and chief city magistrate, that instead of being an advantage to have a pistol under your pillow at night, or in your house, or on your person on the highways, night or day, it is a source of disadvantage.

"I would like to hear from the advocates of the continuous sale of pistols how many burglars were prevented from carrying out their operations by the householder's being armed last year, or any year. I would like to know the number of cases in which the citizen's being armed prevented a highway robbery."

Judge McAdoo cites numerous instances that have come under his observation in which the pistol has failed disastrously as a weapon of defense and stresses the point that only the law-breaker has any use for it as a weapon of offense. In spite of this the gun carrying habit is on the increase, he says, and of late years has even been taken up by the ladies. It is the open season for shooting men by jilted, jealous mistresses and wives, and no one need be surprised, according to the judge, if it comes to pass that "the bride will go to the altar with the family gun strapped to her waist as part of her trousseau."

Prohibition That Prohibits

Pistol toting must be prohibited, in the opinion of this eminent authority, and it must be a kind of prohibition that will really prohibit. The law which he favors defines the term "prohibited weapon" as including "any revolver, pistol, cartridge loaded or unloaded, for use in a revolver or pistol, firearm silencer, and any parts of such revolver, pistol or silencer."

One of the first provisions of the proposed act is aimed to stop the flood of foreign revolvers that have come into the United States in recent years, and it imposes extremely drastic penalties upon all who have anything to do with bringing them in.

If the law should be passed there will be levied on each revolver, pistol or firearm silencer "manufactured in the United States and hereafter sold, bartered, exchanged, or given away, or removed for use or sale, barter, exchange or gift, a tax of $100, to be paid by the manufacturer thereof." If a prohibited weapon is sold, exchanged, bartered or given away by another than the manufacturer, then the person so disposing of it shall pay the $100 tax.

And as to ammunition the bill provides: "All cartridges, loaded or unloaded in the United States shall be packed by the manufacturer or person loading them in packages containing 50, 100, 500, and 1000 cartridges each, and upon cartridges sold, bartered, exchanged or given away, or removed for use or sale, barter, exchange or gift, there shall be levied, collected and paid a tax at the rate of one dollar for each loaded and fifty cents for each unloaded cartridge."

Judge McAdoo, referring to the movement for international disarmament, says that it is more important to America to have individual disarmament and scrap the pistols than it is to destroy a dozen battleships, 'for the good of our country and its reputation and the safety and sacredness of human life."

"Let us get back to that—the sacredness of human life," he adds. "I don't care whether a man killed was a bad man or a good man, we must get a public opinion in New York and San Francisco and Chicago and all over America that human life is sacred, and that no man has a right to take it except under great stress in self defense."

Regulations in England

When the pistol toting problem was taken up in England a few years ago a law was passed by Parliament regulating not only the manufacture but the carrying and selling of pistols, revolvers automatics and rifles. The decision as to whom a license should be given to carry a weapon rests with the chief police officer of the district in which the applicant resides.

Out of the 20,000 applications first filed in the metropolitan police district in London, the Commissioner, General Sir William Horwood, refused permits in about 19,000 cases and in only one instance was his refusal contested in the courts. Within a comparatively short period the number of licenses granted was reduced to 100. Any person caught with an unlicensed firearm in his possession is fined heavily and the weapon is confiscated and destroyed. Any person who shoots at a police officer gets from two to ten years of penal servitude. The latter drastic punishment is said to have had a very salutary effect in checking the carrying of firearms in England.

The result has been a decided reduction in the number of murders committed with firearms. In one year there were but 26 murders in the metropolitan district, and in 13 of these cases the murderers committed suicide on the spot. Of the remaining 13, two of the offenders were insane and the other 11 were apprehended, convicted and hung or given long terms of imprisonment.

As a further illustration of how European countries regulate this problem it may be stated that in Denmark all persons are forbidden to bear firearms, except for hunting, and they are not allowed to carry firearms for hunting without first coming to an agreement with the chief of police. In extraordinary cases the chief of police will allow the bearing of firearms by guards, nightwatchmen, and the like, but such permits are seldom granted.

Turning to the Far East it is found that Japan is practically free of the menace of the promiscuous or general handling of deadly weapons. Private individuals can not own arms and ammunition, and the law prohibits not only the manufacturing, selling or carrying of ammunition.

In Argentine legislation is being sought that will prohibit any person from having a firearm in his home or from carrying a firearm without having a special permit from the authorities.

In most Central and South American countries, however, more murderous attacks are committed with the knife or dagger than with the revolver or pistol, and it has been found an extremely difficult question to determine when a knife becomes a deadly weapon and ceased to be merely a useful or necessary article of pocket equipment.

Tax Islanders For New National Theatre; Fund Growing Fast

REYKJAVIK, Iceland—Amusement tax paid by Icelandic theater-goers is being conserved in a special fund through which it is hoped to build a national theater.

A 20 per cent tax on all tickets to public dances will go into effect soon, and the revenue collected in this way will also go into the national theater fund. The fund now amounts to approximately $18,000.

Down the Street With One Shoe Off Came the Fireman

To a Fire? No. To Relieve a Corn

Fireman Paul Popovish, 9818 Denison Ave., Cleveland, O., told his strange experience to a reporter. He said:

"One day my corn hurt so I walked down the street without my shoe. I had tried most everything, when I decided to use a 'Blue-jay' Corn Plaster. Well, I did! It is the only thing I ever found that gave instant relief. And it peeled off the corn in 48 hours."

"Blue-jay" Plasters remove millions of stubborn corns. We make a liquid "Blue-jay" too, but for instant relief we recommend the Plasters, because the soft felt ring encircles the corn and instantly removes all painful shoe pressure. A liquid cannot remove shoe pressure. And it's hard for you to drop on just the right dose, or keep a liquid exactly on the corn.

In the shapely "Blue-jay" Plasters there is just the amount of preparation prescribed by the famous chemist who discovered "Blue-jay". It is centered in the ring. Not too much, not too little. An adhesive strip holds the preparation on the corn and nowhere else. 48 hours later the corn lifts right out. Only very stubborn corns require a second plaster.

Every time you pare a corn you risk danger of infection. Get six safe, sure "Blue-jay" Plasters for 25c. Two days later write us your experience please. All druggists sell "Blue-jay" Plasters. "Blue-jay" Laboratories, 25th and Dearborn Sts., Chicago, Ill.

in jail," and that answers his purpose.

Perhaps the Iowa clergy, praying for the Iowa legislature, might cover the ground by saying as a preliminary to censored prayer, "for what I am thinking some of you could be put in jail."

You may live to 105 and not read this news again.

Mrs. Robinson and Miss Cluterbuck, British golfers drove off from the fifteenth tee at Ramsgate and each "sank" her ball on that first shot. It was a 110-yard hole and for some time to come those ladies will tell how they "halved the hole in one."

John Barrymore, now back from his great success as a Hamlet in London, is said to have told the Prince of Wales that what kept him, Barrymore, going was "fervor and champagne."

The able young actor is mistaken. Fervor will keep a man going up to 90 and beyond. Champaign, if he gives it a chance, will stop him at 50.

Light red wine, supplying iron, tannin and vitamine, yes.

Ninety per cent of the world's really great men have relied upon it, in old age and in youth. Champagne, no.

Its arrested process of fermentation continues inside the drinker and that's deadly. Frenchmen who know manufacture champagne for Englishmen, Russians and Americans.

They, the wise French, drink claret.

The bootleg industry has energetic management. Spies of the rum runner, included in crews of government boats, cripple the engines. And officers of the "dry navy" interfering with the ru mships have been threatened with death.

If American boats were anchored off the British coast, openly engaged in co-operation with British lawbreakers, don't you think Britain would take vigorous action?

PAY TOO SMALL, MAYOR QUITS

Holloway's Woman Executive Can't Live on $100 a Year.

FLUSHING, O., May 12.—This business of being a mayor or rather, mayoress, is interesting and hectic and all of that, but when there's only a $100 bill forthcoming for a year's term and there's food and clothes to buy, it's not so good.

At least Mrs. Dora Whiston thinks as much, and has quit the mayoral chair at Holloway, a railroad town, and has come to Flushing to continue living with her daughter and son-in-law, who recently moved here from Holloway.

When "her honor" resigned, Holloway councilmen selected H. C. Robinet to serve the remainder of the term, which expires in January. It was rather hard to relinquish the reins of the village to a man, especially after Holloway women had worked hard and exercised their recently born voting power to put her in office—but one simply must eat.

In the opinion of the former executive, a woman can handle municipal offices as readily as a man, especially in the smaller towns where the work does not take a great deal of time away from home.

Woman Put Off Train At Wrong Station, Sues for $5,000

DAYTON, O., May 12.—Charging that Union station employes misdirected her to a train, Lucy J. Lee, of Tutwiler, Miss., has sued the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad companies for $5,000.

She was put off a train 15 miles from Dayton through a misunderstanding.

THIS WOMAN'S REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Entirely Due To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Forest City, Iowa.—"My first child lived only a short time and I was sick for a year after. When I bent over and raised myself up again I could almost scream with pain in my back. One day I was so bad that I had to leave my washing and get ready to go to the doctor. He gave me medicine but it did no more good than if I drank just water. Once when we had been in town a little book telling about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was left in our car. I have taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound now and I do all my housework and help with the milking and taking care of chickens and garden. Besides I have a fine baby girl eight months old, just the picture of health and I am feeling fine myself. You may use this letter as a testimonial and I will answer any letters asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Oscar F. Borgelin, Route No. 5, Forest City, Iowa.

GUNMEN KILL TWO AT SMOKER

Double Murder Believed Due to Wet Wash Laundry War.

NEW YORK, May 12—Police today were seeking gansters and gunmen who killed Henry Ginsberg, 38, and his partner, Hyman Jacobson, at a smoker in Brooklyn last night.

The double murder, police believe, was a new outbreak of the wet wash laundry wars.

Three uninvited guests walked into the stag and shot Ginsberg, who was seated at a table waiting for the show to start. The shots were not heard as the gun was equipped with a Maxim silencer.

Ginsberg fell dead on the floor, blood streaming from his vest.

Jacobson, who was acting as an usher, ran after the three gunmen. When police arrived they found his body in the driveway of the inn.

him about making a trip to Canton, the witness replied, "Nothing."

Victim's Son on Stand.

Carman Desmonia, son of Mrs. Vinin New York, testified that the shooting in the Desmonia home awakened him. He was lying over a table in the dining room, sleeping, when his mother came into the room and said, "Someone shot me'.

The witness then told of calling a physician, the coming of an ambulance to the home to take his mother to a hospital, and the arrival of the Wellsville police.

Oscar Garden, colored, said that he was in his home when he heard the shooting on Broadway. He declared he saw some one running but that he could not describe the man.

When Garden finished his testimony and was about to leave the stand, Brookes asked him if O'Grady had been talking with him. The witnuess replied 'no'.

"Is that a charge that counsel has been tampering with a witness?'

"If the shoe fits you, put it on", Brookes replied.

When Garden was excused the court declared a recess until 1 o'clock.

Members of Jury

The jury, chosen at 2 o'clock yesterday, includes six men and six women. They are: Clyde Bryan, Salem; Harry Morrow, Lisbon; Mary McIntosh, East Liverpool; Jennie Roach, Salem; Mrs. Lyda Ustick, Wellsville; John Baxter, Lisbon; William Burkee, East Palestine; Mrs. Rose Yoder, East Palestine; Charlotte Oesch, West Township; Mrs. George Bradfield, East Liverpool; D. D. Kirby, Salem; Leonard Aughinbaugh, Wellsville.

The thirteenth juror was not selected, althuogh it had been intimated before court opened yesterday morning that the extra juror would "listen in" as provided by Section 11431-1.

Judge Glenn did not suggest to counsel that the extra juror be selected.

Visit Scene of Alleged Crime.

Within half an hour after the jurors were sworn by Clerk of Courts John T. Burns they were taken to Wellsville to view the scene of the alleged crime, in custody of Sheriff George Wright.

The prisoner was in charge of Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, accompanied the jurors on the trip.

Positive injunction was given by Judge Glenn that no jurors were to talk to any one except Sheriff Wright. It was also made plain that Prosecuting Attorney Robert M. Brookes, representing the state, and Attorney James E. O'Grady, of Wellsville, were to be the only ones to address the sheriff, and he in turn would point certain locations to the jury that might be suggested to him by counsel.

Instructions Given Jurors.

To the jurors, Judge Glenn said: "Don't form an opinion that a crime has been committed. You will only do this after you have heard the evidence in this case, heard the argument of counsel at the close and the charge of the court. During any recess period, should the court fail to charge you as you have already been charged you are hereby ordered to obey the order not to talk of this case to any one, or among yourselves. Should any one attempt to talk to you about the case, report the name of the person to the court, and if not the name, then a description of the person. The court will then act."

It was 4:15 o'clock when the jury returned to the Lisbon court, then recessed until 9 o'clock this morning.

Hindenburg Chief

the reichstag he walked to the west portal, to review the reichswehr troops and motoring from the reichstag, then was officially received at Wilhelmstrasse palace by President Ad Interim Simon.

Visits Presidential Palace.

Then driving slowly between squadrons of the Prussian lancers, President Hindenburg approached for the first time since his election his future home, the presidential palace.

Thousands of handkerchiefs and uplifted hands made a white background for the fluttering pennons of his honor guard. As he alighted from his automobile he seemed weary, but stood with raised hat while the crowd broke out in the strains of "Deutschland Uber Alles."

At the conclusion of the first verse, President Hindenburg entered the house. The crowd sang the anthem through to the end. Then the lancers again dipped their pennons, swung into columns of four, and marched away.

Speaks With Vigor.

In taking the oath, Hindenburg spoke with vigor, distinctly and slowly, as if anxious that all the world should hear every word. The constitution does not make it mandatory to swear "by God,' 'but Hindengurg prefaced his declaration with that phrase, for he is a deeply religious man.

The president was dressed in a frock coat, top hat and gray trousers. His face was slightly pale and his expression grave. He gave the appearance to onlookers as that of a man of calm dignity.

He walked firmly and with military tread as he left the reichstag by the western door. In front of which stands an enormous monument of Bismark, to inspect the Reichwehr battalion. When he appears on the porch the thousands of persons gathered nearby set up a thunderous cheering. The battalion was lined up in parade formation in front of the reichstag prepared for inspection and as a demonstration that the president also is commander-in-chief of the army.

Rides to Palace.

Extraordinary precaution was taken by thousands of police during the night to circumvent any overt act by Communists. The reichstag was minutely searched from underpinning to dome and every nook and cranny where a bomb might be secreted was examined.

Buildings Gay With Flags.

Inauguration day was bright and cheerful.

All official Wilhelmstrasse buildings were gay with Republican flags and emblems.

Inside in the plenary hall, a table stood in front of the president's chair this too, had Republican colors, flowers at the right and left of the table.

Behind the presidential chair was the presidential banner, but no other decoration. Most of the Socialist deputies wore red carnations.

The crowds that surged outside the Reichstag numbered in the tens of thousands. Police controlled the situation with military firmness.

Throng Cheers President.

When Hindenburg left the chancellor's palace there was no fanfare and blare of trumpets as in the old days of monarchial splendor.

He got into a five-seated automobile as though he were a commoner. The throng cheered loudly.

The only incident that marked the auto journey was that of a small boy being pulled down from a lamp post where he had climbed to see Hindenburg ride past.

It was a day of glory for thousands of former soldiers, many of whom had fought in the field with Hindenburg. Numerous impoverished veterans had saved their earnings for weeks to get out of pawn the cherished and once resplendent uniform of a general or an admiral to wear today.

Herrick Spikes Rumors at Conference With Reporters.

PARIS, May 12.—Joseph Caillaux, French minister of finance, today proposed to the finance commission of the chamber of deputies that a part of the receipts under the Dawes plan be used to pay the inter-allied debts.

PARIS, May 12—Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, today received American correspondents at the embassy and in a statement to them denied that a note regarding a settlement of the French debt had been transmitted to the Painleve government. He said the next information on the subject would have to come from the state department at Washington.

Following bumper crops in Denmark last season the farmers there are prosperous.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 12.—The stock market was active and buoyant in every department in early trading today. The motor stocks held the center of the stage at the opening, but speculative interest soon spread to the rails, and later to the oils and industrials, including the copper and shipping shares. Rubber manufacturing companies reporting large inventories reflected the sensational forward price movement in crude rubber, which has advanced from 34 to 61 cents a pound since the turn of the year.

Willys Overland preferred pushed through par for the first time and sold at 101½. General Motors reached a new high at 76. United States Rubber at 47 showed a gain of about 10 points for the movement.

Both the investment and the speculative railroad shares reached higher prices with Frisco common a leader in the former group. St. Paul preferred spurted nearly two points to 10½ in the early trading, while the common was up ½ at 6½. American Can reached a new record high at 189 with a gain of over four points. Baldwin and General Electric gained two points each.

Standard Oil of New Jersey and Maryland led a moderate rally in the oil stocks in which Phillips, Pacific and a few of the independent oil shares participated. But the volume of trading was comparatively small.

MAY DYNAMITE DEATH VESSEL

Mississippi River Still Holds Bodies of 21 Victims.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12—Dynamite may be used by government engineers today in an attempt to bring to the surface the bodies of the 21 victims, still imprsoned in the hull of the steamer Norman, which lies at the bottom of the Mississippi, 16 miles below here.

This method was tentatively decided upon after another fruitless day was spent pounding the submarged boat to pieces with powerful derricks in an effort to release the bodies.

Despite the fact that nearly one-quarter of the entire superstructure of the Norman has been torn away, the Father of Waters refused to give up the dead which it has guarded so jealously for three days and nights.

Three heavy anchors, attached to government dredges, were pounded against the sides of the Norman continually during the day, but to no avail. A constant vigil was maintained by the fleet of motor boats patroling the river on the lookout for any bodies that may have risen to the surface.

A pathetic note was added to the fruitless search by the presence on shore of a little group of patient spectators, who waited for hours to hear the cry that the work had been successful. They were relatives of the victims, many of whom had come for miles to claim the bodies of their dead.

A drizzling rain failed to prevent them from maintaining their silent watch. Water soaked, chilled to the bone, yet, they waited.

Half of Dry Law Fines Must be Paid Into State Treasury

COLUMBUS, May 12.—One-half of the fines obtained by mayors for violations of the state prohibition act must be paid into the state treasury, the state supreme court here held today.

The court allowed motion of Attorney General Crabbe for a writ of mandamus to compel Mayor Felton of Grove City, Franklin county, to pay into the state treasury $4,116.12 representing one-half of fines collected in his mayor's court prior to June 17, 1924. Felton contended he had authority to retain the sum involved for payment of expenses of detectives. A like sum had already been paid in to the village treasury.

Smokers Get Warning Against Forest Fires

Sacramento.—Every time they "light up" in the future, smokers of certain brands of cigarets and tobacco distributed in California will be reminded of the danger of forest fires through the careless handling of matches and lighted cigarets and cigars. At the request of forestry officials representing both the state and federal governments, several of the largest tobacco companies of the country have agreed to pack with their products intended for distribution in California a printed notice warning smokers against the danger of forest fires.

Industry Has Highest Death Rate, Quiz Finds

Baltimore, Md.—The rate from accidental causes among industrial workers is about two and one-half times that for the nonindustrial group, the committee on occupational diseases and hazards in the chemical trades of the American Chemical society declared in a report to the spring meeting of the society here. Pneumonia is twice as high among industrial as among nonindustrial workers, the report added, continuing:

"Tuberculosis is more important than accidents, for a loss of between eighteen months and two years in the longevity of workers and industrial employment is probably the most important single factor in the tuberculosis death rate.

"In a similar manner conditions as cerebral hemorrhage, Bright's disease, and organic heart diseases show strikingly the effects of industrial exposure. The death rates are two and three times as high as in the nonindustrial groups during the active working years of life.

"As regards the hazards inherent to exposure to certain industrial poisons it is believed the number of immediate deaths is probably not large; but the indirect effects can be noted in the curtailed efficiency of workers in these trades, in long periods of illness and disability."

The gas well at Latrobe, Pa., still holds the record of being the depest, it having been sunk 7,428 feet.

SCHOOL BOND VOTE MONDAY

Ask $60,000 for Erection of New Building.

Grant district voters will pass upon a bond issue for $60,000 for the purpose of purchasing a school site, erecting, completing and furnishing a one-story eight-room fire-proof building in Newell, to include a gymnasium, auditorium and basement, and for the purpose of finishing and equipping the Grandview school and drilling a water well at the same location, at a special election to be held next Monday.

The proposal represents a levy of 11 cents on every one hundred dollar valuation, based upon the last prior assessment of said property for state and county purposes. It has been pointed out by school officials that under the lew the board of education can, in emergencies, assess a levy of 40 cents. The bond issue is expected to solve the problem of crowded conditions existing in the Newell school building. The length of the bonds is for 30 years with the levy decreasing as property valuation increases.

Members of the district board of education will sit in the Newell school building Wednesday, May 13, when corrections will be made in the registration lists and new voters added. This will be the only opportunity for new electors to enroll.

Electors will vote in the Newell school building and Rock Springs park precincts, while those residing in Congo and Arroyo will cast their ballots in the Congo school.

High Baseball Team Wins.

HOW TO END BLADDER TROUBLE

Remarkable results in quickly clearing up long-standing cases of bladder trouble and weak kidneys are being obtained with a remarkable remedy originally compounded many years ago by a famous Holland chemist. It goes direct to the overworked and congested kidneys and bladder, and tones them up and restores them to normal working order often in 24 hours. Physicians have known its value for years, but it is only recently that the genuine imported oil has been put up in easy-to-take, tasteless capsule form, under the name of Red Mill Haarlem Oil. Costs only 50c, and sold under an absolute money-back guarantee. Ask these druggists:

E. Palestine Mayor Will Seek County Auditor Job in 1926

Mayor Albert W. Ferren of East Palestine will not seek a third term, but will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for county auditor in 1926, he announced today.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

Ferren, a former resident of East Liverpool, was active in the enforcement of the prohibition laws during his first term of office, offenders from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salem and other parts of the county being arraigned in his court. He was re-elected without opposition.

Bank Equipment Sold.

BETHESDA, May — The mechanical equipment of the defunct Commercial & Savings bank has been sold to the South Euclid bank at South Euclid. The property includes adding machines, typewriter, files, etc. State Representative H. P. Loe bought some of the real estate owned by the institution which closed last summer, due, it was claimed, to excessive loans made to a promoter. The former cashier is in the penitentiary.

The Path of Thorns

Alice had a comfortable home with her parents in a thriving little village. She had the usual opportunities for wholesome amusement—friends—a sweetheart who was devoted to her. Yet she was discontented. Life was too slow. She longed for romantic adventure, excitement—a taste of what is called "the wine of life." Had she known the hollow mockery, the utter emptiness of the career of pleasure that beckoned her, she would never have made the tragic mistake that was to bring her such agony of mind and soul. Her story, "The Fool That I Was," appears in True Story Magazine for June. One of 18 big features. Get your copy today.

APPEALS TAKEN IN SALEM CASES

Permission is Granted by Judge to File Petitions.

An appeal has been taken to common pleas court from that of Mayor George Russell, of Salem, in the case of Edgar C. Sheen, Jr., wherein the plaintiff in error was fined $100 and costs for the violation of a city ordinance which confines the erection of a gas filling station.

The motion asking to file a petition in error was filed by Metzgar & McCarty, and seven causes of error were recited in the petition, which Judge James G. Moore permitted filed. The record of the case shows that the city of Salem granted the plaintiff in error a permit to erect a new building at a cost of $1,500 and that this permit was filed April 27.

The city of Salem is also made defendant in error in the case heard in the court of Mayor Russell wherein Nick Orsahan was the defendant, charged with "possession," a violation of the state liquor laws.

In the Salem court the plaintiff in error was fined $400. It was testified that a still was being operated in the attic of the home occupied by the plaintiff in error, that gas was burning under the still, and that four barrels of mash and six gallons of whisky were taken from the room.

In this cause the court granted the motion for leave to file a petition in error, and this was done by Metzgar & McCarty, representing the plaintiff in error. At the same time the bill of exceptions and the record in the case was also filed with the petition.

PROBE IS PLANNED ON TAX RETURNS

Out of a possible 600, only 164 personal tax returns have been filed with County Auditor Charles E. Hamilton by residents of Leetonia.

But 46 tax returns have been filed from the village of Rogers.

An investigation is now proposed to ascertain why more personal tax returns were'nt filed from Leetonia, and where it is found that people have not filed returns as they should, the penalty is to be added to the returns, and all exemptions will be forfeited.

A list of those received are to be given assessors, and the assessors are to make a check against this list when they make their survey of Leetonia.

In all other communities there has been an increase in the number of tax returns, and the records show that more automobiles are owned in the Leetonia taxing district than the number of personal tax returns filed.

Sixth Inning Rally Gives Chester Victory Over Nash Motors

Two Singles, Errors and Walks Are Fatal to Visiting Tossers

It All Happens in Final Frame When Riley's Crew Overcomes Three-run Lead Held by Wellsville Nine; Manning Allows Only Three Hits But Passes Fight.

AFTER having been blanked until the sixth inning of their Industrial league contest last evening at Smith field, the Chester club turned on the Wellsville Nash Motors and won out by the count of 4 to 3.

It happened this way. With a lead of three runs against them, Jackson, of the Chester tossers, faced Manning and was given a walk. Runyon booted Rector's drive. Werkheiser filled the bags as Runyon foozled his blow. W. McMath singled, scoring Jackson and Rector. Les McMath, after R. Bennett struck out, forced Werkheiser at second. Moore walked. P. Cebula singled and the two McMaths scampered home.

Going back to the opening inning, Rager, of the visitors, tripled to right and finished on Yannucci's sacrifice fly to Werkheiser. J. Morgan singled in the fourth and went around on R. Bennett's wide throw to second and Dustman's timely safety.

R. Manning singled in the fifth and scored on errors by Moore and R. Bennett, plus Rager's infield single.

Manning's pitching was at once good and bad. He gave eight passes, but he permitted only three hits. R. Bennett was steady for the Chesterites, giving no walks and allowing six safeties.

Rager, Shipley and Werkheiser contributed some fine catches in the garden. The field, damp from the Sunday rain, did not mar the playing, which was viewed by a large crowd of fans.

K. T. K. will play Wellsville at Central park, Wellsville, this evening. Club managers will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms.

SPORTSMEN PLAN SUPPER MAY 22

Officials of the East Liverpool branch of the Columbiana County Fish and Game association today announced a special meeting of the organization will be held on Wednesday evening in the Fowler building in the Diamond.

The sportsmen expect to apply the finishing touches to plans for their annual fish supper, which will be held on Friday evening, May 22, in the Eagles home, Broadway.

J. C. Miller, secretary of the fish and game association, today announced that he received preliminary word of the shipment of 100 pheasant eggs from the state game farm at Hudson for distribution in the immediate territory.

BILLIARD STAR WILL PLAY HERE

His nose knows, is the claim of Prof. Lewis, of New York, champion finger billiardist of the world, and the only man in the universe playing billiards with his nose, who will give an exhibition tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the Liberty billiard parlor, and another on the following night at the National.

Lewis will play a game of 14.2 balk line of 100 points, after which he will meet some of the local stars, playing them 100 points to 50, with his fingers, and then he will play them 50 points to 25 with his nose as a cue. In concluding, Lewis will give a number of fancy shots, both with finger and nose. He says he will make a run of 300 points in 10 minutes.

Rigney picked one away in the first inning with a double play in sight and the Red Sox made capital of the incident by proceeding onward to a 7 to 4 victory over the Tigers.

AMATEURS HIT BY GOLF RULE

Qualifiers in Title Play Limited to Sixteen.

NEW YORK, May 12. — Chills and fever began running a foot race up and down the spinal column of the average amateur golfer some months ago and the latest decision rendered was a dead heat. It is likely that the race will continue up to and including the first day of the national amateur championship at Pittsburgh. It began hard upon the official announcement that only sixteen players will qualify for the match play rounds that lead to the title.

This means that there will be a great plenty of weeping, wailing and gnashing of bicuspids at the nineteenth hole when the returns on the qualifying round are posted. Only 16 will then remain in the tournament, and at this writing there are probably more than 60 amateurs in this country who may be rated as title contenders.

Upset Expected.

In former years it was the custom to qualify the 32 low scores, and even then some of our best people made a hasty though dignified exit on the first day of the meeting. With the qualifiers' number cut in half, it is inevitable, therefore, that several of the golfing aristocracy will receive a plebeian funeral.

Not even the champions — past, present and in prospect—will be immune. Bobby Jones undoubtedly is strokes better than any other amateur in the world, yet several bad holes might carry his tally close to or over the eighties. This would be suicidal with only 16 places left open.

However, the executive committee of the United States Golf Association is not disposed to pave the way for a general uprising on the part of the so-called unknowns. In fact, if any champions are eliminated in the qualifying round, it is probable that they will have the satisfaction of knowing that their scores were bettered by players of equal rank.

Entries Fewer.

This has been virtually assured by the decision of the committee to further reduce the list of championship eligibles, which may number as few as 150 when the round begins on August 31. Present indications are that only those with handicaps of three or better will be admitted when are bars are raised. And even these will be expected to furnish proof of their ability, including their tournament record for the last two years.

In short, the tendency is toward fewer and fancier entries.

Last Night's Fights

At Columbus—Eddie O'Dowd, Columbus bantamweight, defeated Al Ziemer, Cleveland, 12 rounds; Mike O'Dowd, Columbus, and Willie Sullivan, Cincinnati, eight rounds, draw; Lou Bloom took all six rounds from kid Williams, Todeldo; Benny Neeb won from K. O. Brown, four rounds.

At Lima—Jake Gross, Lima, fought a draw with Jack Duffy, Toledo, 12 rounds. Perry McPherson, Lima, received decision over Jimmy Kratzn, Toledo, 8 rounds. Al Brown, Lima, knocked out Billy Glassner, Toledo, sixth round.

At Buffalo.—Rockey Kansas, Buffalo, got the decision over Joe Jawson, Milwaukee, six rounds. Art Weigand, Buffalo, knocked out Tony Stabenau, Buffalo, sixth round. Eddie Welsh, Notre Dame, Ind., defeated Jack Oakes, Buffalo, six rounds. Ted Estabrook, Niles, Ohio, defeated Harry Stucki, New York, six rounds.

New York.—Carl Duane, New York, got the decision over Izzy Cooper, New York, ten rounds.

At Chester, Pa—Buddy Burk, Chester, knocked out Charley Boyd, England, one round. Howard "Kid" Stewart, Chester, given decision over Lew Baker, Philadelphia, 8 rounds. Chick Lydell, and Soldier Johnson, both from Wilmington, Del., fought a draw six rounds. Kid Stansburg, Chester, stopped Patsy Garrity, Marcus Hook, Pa., 2 rounds.

MORAN IS TAILOR NOW IN LONDON

LONDON, May 12.—Frank Moran, the pride of Pittsburgh, who once earned his dough by giving heavyweights a sock on the jaw, is now making a living here by giving anyone who wants it a belt in the back. He's a tailor. If his patrons want their coats plain it's all the same with Frank. The former heavyweight mauler, who met most of the leading heavies of his time, including Jack Johnson, and Jess Willard, never had much science in the ring, but he had a haymaking swing that hurt when it landed. Frank affectionally called it his "Mary Ann".

SIX ENTRANTS IN DERBY TRIAL

Mile Event to be Staged Today at Churchill Downs.

By Thomas Temple Hoyne.

LOUISVILLE, May 12.—Something of a line on half a dozen of the derby candidates will be given this afternoon in the derby trial at Churchill Downs. The race is at one mile and six entrants are the Ziegler pair, Borderland and Needle Gun, the Xatapa farm stable pair, Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon, Kentucky Cardinal and Step Along.

The Croissant colt, Kentucky Cardinal, is in with top weight of 117 pounds and this is his first start as a three-year-old.

Sweeping Away and Prince of Bourbon are fresh from the east. They will carry 114 and 111 pounds, respectively. The former is the one that will probably meet the fancy of many of the dopesters. Step Along also is a favorite of many.

Mark Master, the derby colt that was suffering from a quarter crack that became infected, was well enough again to work an easy mile at Douglas Park this morning. He covered it in 1:47 1-5, and his trainer, George Walker, is still hopeful that the colt will be in good enough shape to start in the derby.

As the date for the big race approaches the idea that it will be no cinch for the favorite, Quatrain, is broadcasting. At this moment it still looks like a mighty open race.

Visitors are beginning to pour into this city from all directions. Last night Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo got in from Owensboro. They will dine with Governor Wm. J. Fields at Frankfort tomorrow evening. On Saturday they will be in a box at Churchill Downs.

Officals of the Laughlin China club today announced that Tom Cartwright's Salineville tossers will share honors with the Laughlins in the festivities.

Manager Bricelin will send his crack industrial league team against the visitors.

In addition to the Saturday clash, Bricelin's club also faces two other games during the closing stages of the week, playing on Thursday and Friday afternoon, both engagements being carded at Newell diamond.

Joseph Dickey, Laughlin plant welfare director, today announced the organization of the Laughlin Greys, an independent club, which will operate solely among the independents and semi-pros of the district, playing games both at home and abroad. Hamilton English is manager of the new outfit. He has issued a call for a practice drill tonight at Newell diamond.

Bricelin's club is billed for a workout on Wednesday evening.

Hoyt And Scott May Be Traded To Chisox

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Edward G. Barrow, who directs the destinies of the New York Yankees, except on the ball field, is headed west today to lend what aid he may in the further dismantling of that once proud ball club. The process of demolition, begun with the benching of Everett Scott last week, probably will be continued via a trade with the White Sox in Chicago, where the Yankees are doing their elderly best to step along the American league pace.

The first of the Yanks said to be ticketed for immediate transfer is Waite Hoyt. He is still in his middle twenties and should be a great right hander. He was but isn't. A change of scene might prove extremely beneficial to Hoyt and probably he will get it.

Scott is another who has outlasted his welcome at the Yankee stadium. He was eased out of the line-up after playing 1,307 consecutive games and at the time took occasion to predict that he "would never sit on the bench."

The Sox, having been in need of infielders since the 1919 scandal wafted Risberg, Weaver and Gandil to the outer darkness of baseball's forgotten, would be i na position to give Scott more active work than he could find with the New York club.

Sam Jones and Bob Shawkey also come under the head of trading possibilities, although it is not likely that the Sox will become emotional about Shawkey. He seems to be about at the end of his major league rope.

If the Yankees give pitchers, however, they will want pitchers in return and the Sox can hardly be said to reek with the breed. In the matter of acceptable trading material, they have Faber, Robertson, Connally, Blankenship, Leverette, Davenport and Thurston, constituting their first string staff. There is hardly one of them that Eddie Collins would not relinquish on the promise of Hoyt's future with his club.

The Yankees may be willing to pass Scott along without getting his equivalent in infield material, but in that case they will want something else, to wit, a hard hitting outfielder.

They are in desperate need of such a man with Ruth out of the line-up for an indefinite period, and are said to be peering fixedly at either Bob Falk or Johnny Mostil. Repeated efforts apparently have convinced them that they cannot get Falk, but Mostil is a fare possibility.

Jockey Still Unconscious.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Jockey Benjamin Marinelli, who sustained a fractured skull in a jam at the Jamaica race track last Friday, reached his ninetieth hour without regaining consciousness at 9 o'clock this morning.
